PTA Carnival Best to Date; $1,778 Raised

The PTA Carnival here Saturday in the Sierra Madre School grounds was judged the most successful ever held.

Mrs. Claude Brown Jr., carnival coordinator, reported that the festive affair grossed approximately $1,778, the highest total on record, and that hundreds of Sierra Madreans attended. The carnival grounds were crowded up to the 9 p.m. closing and tickets were still being sold at 8:45.

Three carnival chefs tied for first place in the cake division. They are Mrs. H. J. Struthers, Mrs. F. D. Massie and Paul Tate.

Two honorable mentions in this division went to Mrs. Myrtle Porter and Mrs. Page Dougherty. Honorable mentions also went to two children, Penny Ward and Lynn Milford.

First prize for the best pie was awarded to Mrs. Lee Stone. Mrs. Paula Hubert won second prize, and Mrs. Maxine Sherk took third place.

Judges of the pie and cake contests were Miss Betty Newton, principal of the Sierra Madre School; Mrs. Jane Eastwood, past president of the PTA, and John Curtis, president of the Civic Affairs Assn.

Ten youngsters were judged winners in the Children's Costume Parade. Judges were School Supt. Charles Skutt, Lorne Pratt and Gifford Eastwood.

The carnival's biggest attraction was Lolita, the gaily adorned mule whose identity was kept a secret until the carnival actually got under way.

LOCAL BUILDING PERMITS LISTED

The total value of building permits issued in Sierra Madre for September amounted to $259,050, the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce reported yesterday. Of this amount, $83,000 was for residential building.

CITY SCHOOLS TO HOLD OPEN HOUSE

How many years have passed since you've been to school?

Well, all you parents will have a chance to visit the Sierra Madre schools during American Education Week, Nov. 6-11, and see the students in action.

Guided tours have been arranged at Sierra Madre and Sierra Mesa Schools from Tuesday through Thursday from 9 to 10 a.m. and 12:30 to 1:30 p.m. You can visit class sessions during the later hours.

This invitation is extended by the Board of Trustees and school staff, the Civic Affairs Assn., and the Sierra Madre PTA.

Uranium Boys Make Camp, Rumors, Too

By Sewall Clark

The five uranium hunters from Sierra Madre who left here Oct. 12 have since then been to college, tangled with bats and yellow-jacks in an old silver mine, and now are located in a Forest Reserve camp 21 miles out of Globe, Ariz.

At least that is the impression which has been gained by a few Sierra Madreans who have received bits of news from Eugene "Beans" Colbert, Don Scollery, Dwight Meyer, Ben McGee, and Clinton "Babe" Dodge through post cards and an occasional letter.

A lot more than that, of course, has occurred—including the fact that in almost every section along their route the sight of their extensive equipment, loaded aboard a converted Army ambulance and jeep, has been the source for many a rumor concerning almost every kind of precious mineral except diamonds.

The school which they "attended" for one day was the University of Arizona where they received helpful information through the Southwest Experimental Station of the Bureau of Mines, besides encountering Robert Annas of Sierra Madre who is a student at the university in Tucson.

The silver mine was on an Indian reservation near Sells, Ariz., where they learned that all prospecting has been temporarily cancelled until the Indian council can establish a better contract. The Indians, it seems, are tired of being "robbed."

Another stop was in Nogales where they discussed matters with the owner of an assay office, a Mr. Wilson who was one of the first to ship uranium ore from that border-line part of Arizona. It was his advice that sent the five men to Globe.

It is in the Globe area that a "legend" already has developed around the Sierra Madreans to such an extent that, according to Colbert, the old-timers there have called them "a big outfit from California" and, as a result, have tried to sell them almost every mine in the country.

The boys, however, have kept their money—and the money of their grubstakers—in their pockets.

UTES TODAY FOR DAVID S. BUCHAN; DIED TUESDAY

David Sharp Buchan, one of the city's best known and widely loved residents, died Tuesday in the Sierra Madre Hospital following a lingering illness. He was 70 years old.

A native of Scotland, Mr. Buchan was born June 7, 1885, and attended Heriot Watt College in Edinburgh. He came to the United States from Canada and had lived in Sierra Madre for the last 34 years.

He was in the general contracting business with his brother, Jack, until ill health forced his retirement about a year ago. He and his brother were active in local social functions as singers and actors.

Mr. Buchan, who lived at 150 S. Baldwin Ave., is survived by his wife, Margaret; two sons, Andrew Roy and David Robert Buchan; a brother, John "Jack" Buchan, all of Sierra Madre, and a sister, Mrs. James Wylie, of Edinburgh, Scotland.

Funeral services will be at 11 o'clock this morning in the Ripple Mortuary Chapel, officiating the Rev. George S. Lindsay of Edinborough, Scotland. Interment will be in Live Oak Memorial Park, Monrovia.

Semanon Club Still Seeks Paid Director

Applications for a part-time, paid recreation director for the Semanon Club are still open, the Sierra Madre Youth Activities Assn. reported yesterday.

Although it is hoped that action can be taken or at least definite progress reported at the association meeting at 8 p.m. Nov. 8 in the Semanon (teenagers') clubhouse, 37 E. Montecito, Frazier Dougherty, president, said there still is time for trained youth activities directors to apply.

They may do so by writing or telephoning Tom Willis, 48 W. Alegria, Custer 5-9944.

Several applicants are being considered at present, but the group would like to have a wider choice in order to assure a "varied and appealing program for the teenage Semanon members under personable, professional direction," Dougherty explained.

The director would be required to give a minimum of eight hours a week, divided between Wednesday and Saturday nights, for which he would be paid on an hourly basis at the current and accepted salary rate for qualified recreation directors in the area.

The Sierra Madre Civic Club recently pledged to pay one-third of the salary as a cooperative gesture to the Youth Activities group, which considers the teenage project to be in a probationary period at present.

Chamber Postpones School Tax Action

More Study Needed, Directors Decide; Members May Vote on Rate Proposal

Action on the proposed school tax rate revision was deferred by directors of the local Chamber of Commerce at their meeting Tuesday in the Bank of Sierra Madre.

The Chamber was requested to endorse the revision by John H. Curtis, president of the Civic Affairs Assn. Curtis, a member of the Chamber's Board of Directors, is an outspoken and vigorous champion of the necessity to revise the tax rate.

Future Star? Ann Austin's On Her Way

Ann Austin, the comely Sierra Madre miss who recently played the lead in "The Detective Story" at Pasadena City College, has a string of accomplishments tacked to her name that would be the envy of any university freshman.

Already she has had roles in such plays as "The Man Who

CRACK ON HEAD NO DETERRENT TO TRUE ART

Neither rain (what's that), snow nor a crack on the head will keep participating artists away from the Purchase Prize Exhibition at the Sierra Madre Public Library tomorrow.

Last week, Jirayer Zorthian, an Armenian painter, was driving to the library with his oil canvas, "The Eaters," when his car hit a bump.

Zorthian hit the roof and opened a crack in his head. The artist drove to a Pasadena hospital, had his noggin sewed up (four stitches), and continued to the library with his painting.

He then returned to his home on N. Fair Oaks, Pasadena, and later made another trip to the hospital.

All of which proves that neither rain, nor snow . . .

Four Million Tourists Trek to Southern California; Set Record

Southern California's tourist business set an all-time record this past year—over 4,000,000 visitors for the first time.

And while they were here, the tourists spent over one-half billion dollars.

This record pleasure trek to the Southland was disclosed today by Don Thomas, managing director of the All-Year Club of Southern California, during the annual meeting of the community tourist advertising organization at the Los Angeles Biltmore.

Tourists numbered 4,002,774 during the year, the first time in history that the four-million mark had been topped. This figure is nearly 20 times the number of tourists who visited Southern California in 1922, the year the All-Year Club advertising campaigns began.

Average distance traveled by each tourist to reach Southern California was 2400 miles, or 4800 miles round-trip. Multiplied by the number of visitors, this total distance reaches the astounding figure of 19 billion, 213 million miles—one of the greatest peacetime travel treks in history.

The number of tourists was 3.3 per cent better than the previous year, and their total spending—$563,955,372—was 6.5 per cent higher. It was the second best year for total dollars left in the Southland during vacations spent here.

When the All-Year Club campaigns began, 250,000 tourists were visiting Southern California each year.

Doors will open at 2:15 p.m., and only association members will be admitted, since single concert tickets are not for sale.

Mrs. Eaton said the nine young men will present a program of their specialties which will be principally in English, but designed to maintain their highly individual Gallic charm and wit.

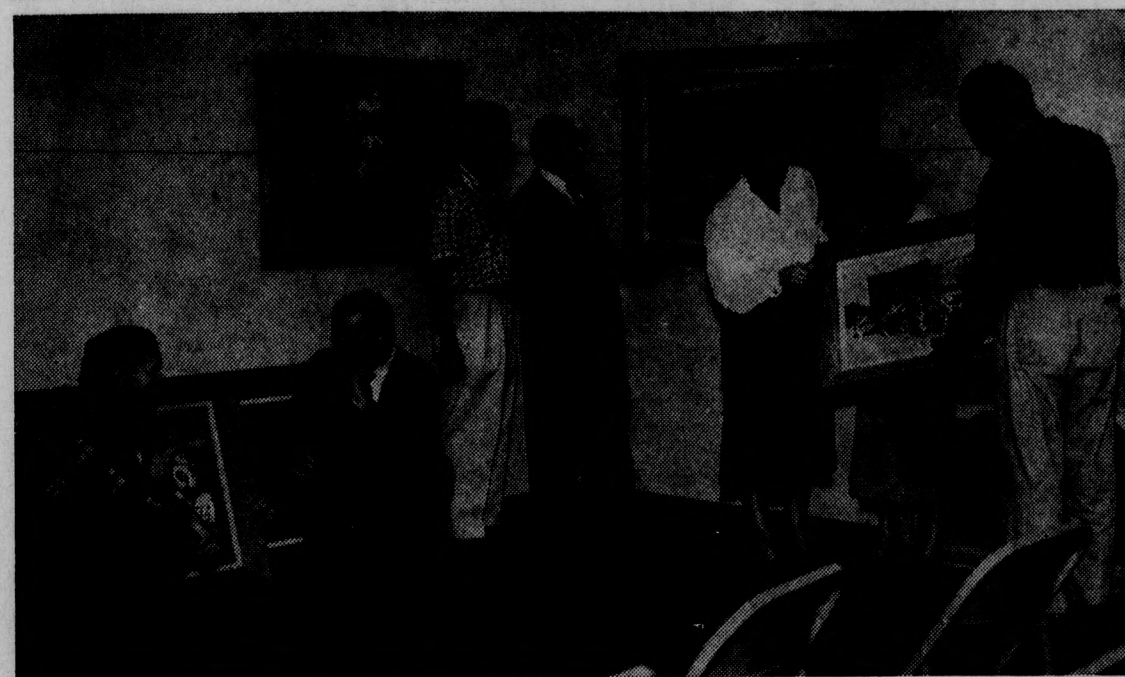

An added attraction will be the young pianist, Emanuelina Pizzuto, who will be soloist on the same program. (Les Compagnons provide their own musical background.)

Les Compagnons began their initial career as a unit during World War II in southern occupied France, where they had gone individually to escape the enemy. Forming an ensemble to earn money, they soon became known throughout the local resistance movement.

Following D-Day, they enlisted in the French First Army under Gen. De Latre de Tassigny. The general, already aware of their reputation, quickly organized them as an entertainment unit for the French Army.

The Friends of the Library will meet today to decide whether the amount oversubscribed should be used as the start of next year's purchase prize fund or to provide a prize for the show of local artists in December.

Coincidentally, the Community Room of the Library will be open this Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m., at which time visitors may view the contemporary paintings on display.

Trick or Kiss . . .

Hallowe'en Was Home-Made In 'Good Old Day,' Writer Finds

By Edith Pictor

Just what did the Sierra Madre youth do on Hallowe'en in the "old, old" days?

We did not have carefully planned school affairs, parades, "trick or treat" marchers, parties with cats, witches, owls and favors bought at the dime store as today.

We popped corn, bobbed for apples, made witches' hats from paper inked black, masks from our black stockings and costumes from that ever-ready cheese cloth costing 10 cents a yard.

The boys were rather shy about dressing up, but exchanged hats and coats in the hope it would change their identities.

The expected thing was the overturning of the chic sales (outhouses, to you) at the back of lots and pulling up the ramp or bridge which spanned those deep ditches on Baldwin, Sunnyside and Lima. One such small house was plunked on the school grounds, its door propped open by the sign, swiped we knew, "Hotel Sierra Madre, Open the Year Round."

One of the still unsolved mysteries is how was Mr. S.

R. G. Twycross' buggy found wedged in the tower of the Congregational Church—now the Nazarene Church. The school bell, another time, had a bucket of water attached to its rope. When pulled it doused the ringer.

A chocolate drink at a church social ready to be served from the wash boiler atop the iron stove was discovered to have coal oil in it.

Each Hallowe'en, gangs of boys invaded the lawns of their girl friends' homes. The girls, pretending indignation, tried to scare them away with dire threats of a dousing from the garden hose.

This was the signal for the boys to turn and face their accusers. A chase followed. The girls who were captured had to be kissed.

Such was Hallowe'en long ago.

Art Prize Fund Goes Over the Top

Sierra Madreans have oversubscribed by $100 to the $350 Purchase Prize Exhibition which will bring 21 of California's top oil painters to the Library Gallery.

The show, the most ambitious of its kind ever held here, will open tomorrow with a reception from 8 to 10 p.m. in the gallery.

From the money donated by 24 art lovers, one canvas will be purchased by the Library as the beginning of a permanent contemporary collection.

The Friends of the Library will meet today to decide whether the amount oversubscribed should be used as the start of next year's purchase prize fund or to provide a prize for the show of local artists in December.

Coincidentally, the Community Room of the Library will be open this Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m., at which time visitors may view the contemporary paintings on display.

Two Story Hours Set for Children Of Sierra Madre

Sierra Madre children will get a load of story telling this and succeeding weeks at the Library and at the home of Miss Marjorie Scoville, 272 W. Grandview.

As a special feature of Book Week, the Library will hold a story hour for children from 5 to 9 years of age, Saturday morning from 10:30 to 11:30. Mrs. Alice Floyd will take the youngsters on a trip in the "Magic Plane" to the Far East.

Miss Scoville's popular story hour, which was discontinued temporarily last May, will be resumed on Saturday, Nov. 13, from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. Miss Scoville will be assisted by Mrs. Richard Black.

Lee Shippey asks What Do You Think?

I am glad that Emily G. Crockett felt free to jump all over me in last week's News, for I sincerely believe in the right of Americans to stand up for what they believe to be true, and it is only by open-minded and unprejudiced discussion that we can test our beliefs. From Mrs. Crockett's letter I learn that last year Russia, after refusing for years to have anything to do with UNESCO, sought admission to some of its activities.

Mrs. Crockett is alarmed by the fact that UNESCO's Art. 6 states: "The director general and staff shall not receive directions from any government or authority external to the organization." But does not that protect us and other members from the intrusion of any Russian direction? If 32 nations cooperate in UNESCO, probably 30 of them wished such safeguard against the domination of any one power.

I confess that I have never made a study of UNESCO, and doubt that Mrs. Crockett has, either. All I know is what I have read in the Los Angeles Times, a notably anti-Communist newspaper. About six weeks ago that newspaper reported that the American Legion's own special committee of six, including three of its own past presidents, and a member of its Auxiliary, had made a report clearing UNESCO of the charges that it was Communist or advocated world government or was spreading any teachings calculated to weaken the patriotism or loyalty of Americans for their own government.

I suspect that that committee studied the facts far more deeply than any of us ordinary citizens have.

I also believe these are facts: The U.S. Commission on UNESCO, supported by national funds, is virtually an arm of our foreign policy, seeking to make friends and create better understanding of OUR country. It is made up of distinguished Americans, who began by electing Milton Eisenhower their chairman. Incidentally, we all think President Eisenhower a good American. Has he ever, by word or act, indicated any thing but friendly interest in UNESCO?

But I can't argue with a lady. I've been married long enough to know such arguments are hard to win.

I'm proud of being a Californian, but we Californians always have been too ready to accept accusation as fact. The famous Vigilantes of San Francisco organized to help the proper authorities, the police, put down crime. Their first act was to seize two men someone accused of being criminals. They were in the act of hanging them when a passer-by recognized the victims and cried out that they were not the men they were said to be. Thus, two innocent men were saved from a mob which thought it was doing right.

I believe in thorough investigations before any man or group is condemned rather than in the Vigilante spirit. If I suspected any man of treason I would suggest to the FBI that he be investigated, but would leave it to that great organization to make the accusation if it were justified.

I would make it clear that mine were only suspicions, it must get the facts. For if I accused, no matter how unjustly, that accusation would go into the dossier, and later someone might ruin a good man's reputation by declaring:

"He is listed as a traitor in FBI files." It is truly un-American to hang any man or any group on accusations, good as it is to hang them on proper proof of guilt.

Letters to the Editor

Nov. 1, 1956.

Dear Sir: Many thanks to Mrs. Crockett for her last week's letter to The News. In attempting to put Mr. Shippey straight she is unquestionably optimistic, but it is good to have documented facts now and then to combat so many of the mere opinions and half truths that we hear and read.

Mr. Shippey writes pleasantly enough of homely comings and goings, and his animal stories are endearing.

With regard to other matters, including politics, economics and world affairs, however, I question that he possesses the sagacity which entitles him to speak.

LUCILE S. EATON.

Dear Editor:

For years Sierra Madreans have worried about somebody setting fire to the brush up in the hills behind Sierra Madre.

Here, we think, is the answer . . .

Subdivide the mountains—all of them. Bulldoze and grub out all the under-dry trees, brush and other burnable material that make these sun-baked mountains the fire hazard that they are.

Then terrace all the mountainsides into level building lots, put in roads, curbs, sewers, sidewalks and about 20,000 small houses to be sold to vets on the "no down payment plan."

Just think of the improvement this would make. Replace all of the dried up old weeds and stuff that is left on those hills with lawns, privet hedges and backyard incinerators. Instead of the explosively dry yucca stalks substitute clothes hanging on the line to add a bit of color. Rip out the few half-dried pines that remain and put in gleaming TV antennas. There used to be thousands of people, hikers, in these hills — let's put them there again as residents.

Think of the obvious advantages to this plan. It would provide living space for hundreds of thousands of newcomers to Southern California without having to rip out any more orange groves. People in these homes would automatically eliminate the "litter-bug" problem by each having his incinerator and yard to clean. Plantings of chrysanthemums, gladioli and other greenery would provide far more watershed than is left on the burned portions of these mountains. The growth of the populace in the area would mean increased business opportunities and more money locally.

To this end a number of us have formed the Mountain Subdivision and Beautification Planning Assn., dedicated to seeing, sometime in the future, a mountainside filled with rooftops and fences. We intend to ask the Sierra Madre Mountain Rescue Squad to make preliminary surveys of the area inasmuch as they are the only group in the area trained and able to get into most of the area.

Another advantage of this would be to provide a view. Since the beginnings of Southern California it has been the practice to climb to the heights of a mountain to see the night lights of the valleys below. These millions of homes, street lights, auto lights, etc., would provide a wonderful night view for the flatlands.

We invite those interested in this plan to call us at any time. J. PUMPHREY PASHTON, President MSBPA.

Gentlemen: Barring a "direct hit" or heavy, prolonged rainfall down our burned over watershed, much of our city's safety lies within our own power. What suggestions does Civil Defense offer toward protection of the water, in above-ground reservoirs, from radiation and fallout?

There should be standby "self

Gov. Knight Views Job as '7th Heaven'

Gov. Goodwin Jess Knight regards the executive suite in the state capitol at Sacramento as a sort of earthly seventh heaven, Frank J. Taylor reports in the current issue of The Saturday Evening Post.

His article, "How to Run for Office," says that Knight, who invariably identifies himself as the "thirty-first state," is without doubt the most blissful and most eloquent politician in these United States.

Taylor relates that the California governorship was Knight's objective since he announced his candidacy back in 1915, when he was an 18-year-old freshman at Stanford University.

In advising young people to take up politics, Knight has warned that there is no short cut. "Start now," he says, "Find out if you like people. Pick your goal and stay with it. I'd rather be governor than a merchant prince. Now that I've attained my goal, I want to go on being governor."

The author notes that Knight doesn't say how long he wants to continue in that capacity and recalls that one of the governor's sayings is, "The thrill is in the chase."

If the 1956 Republican convention at San Francisco becomes a wide-open free-for-all, Taylor says, it should provide plenty of opportunity for such thrills. He sees a clue in an article Knight wrote in his Stanford days which advocated more careful training for the profession of politics. It was entitled, "Are You Presidential Timber?"

Another clue mentioned is a thesis Knight wrote—while at Cornell—about Theodore Roosevelt. The title was, "How to Run for President."

Elsewhere in the article, Taylor mentions that as host governor at the San Francisco convention, Knight will make the speech of welcome. In the unlikely event that Eisenhower is a candidate, he is reportedly all set to kick off the stampeade with the 70 votes of his delegation.

contained" units—diesel or other—to run the pumps and the boosters in case of bombing or other destruction of Edison power sources and transmission.

Just for everyday living the pumps and the boosters should be in top condition at all times. It has been the mercy of destiny that has saved us so far. And the materials are not large enough.

The proposed Foothill arterial—of such vital importance in protecting the city from descending mountain fire, and the watershed from fire starting below it—this arterial should be supplied by best and most powerful boosters. Another reservoir would not be essential. (Standby units would remove danger from hazard of power failure.) Lakewood has 50,000 residents. Chicago has how many? Shall the Water Department $100,000 reserve be used for our safety or kept in deep freeze?

MISS JESSIE DUNNING.

OUT OF THE COBWEBS

49 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK. NOV. 1, 1906—Frank Miner, an old-time resident here but now living in Concord, Mass., surprised some of his friends by a visit to Sierra Madre last week. He has been staying a few days with Mrs. J. C. Dickson.

Miss Walford, a trained nurse of San Francisco, has come to Sierra Madre and is staying with her sister, Mrs. J. G. Blumer.

Burton Andrews, Perce Pegler and Carl Pegler left on Sunday for several days' duck hunting at Elsinore.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellsberry and Mrs. Downing of Los Angeles have rented Mr. S. R. Smith's cottage on Wilden Ave. for the winter.

20 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK. NOV. 1, 1935—City Business Manager Myers announced that the Churchill Road paving projects have been approved by the Works Progress Administration.

Don Blanke, Louis Neumann and Sherill Sadler attended the football game between USC and Berkeley, which was played in the northern city last Saturday.

Mrs. R. Lewis Kruger of 121 E. Alegria St. entertained Miss Lala Fagge, Miss Florence Gilmore and Miss Ruth West. The foursome enjoyed a playing bridge.

10 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK. NOV. 1, 1945—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schlicher received more than 70 guests who came to congratulate the couple on their 50th wedding anniversary.

The 80th birthday of Harry P. Suman was celebrated Wednesday, Oct. 31, by the employes of the Suman Pottery. The city of Sierra Madre now has three local artists as members of the "Women Painters of the West." They are Catherine Tuttle of E. Laurel, Mrs. Helen Narozny, 630 Fairview, and Mrs. Margaret Cash, 242 E. Montecito.

Mrs. Wanda Welhs of the school music department with her Girls' Glee Club will present a program before the Kiwanis Club at noon, Nov. 6.

5 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK. NOV. 2, 1950—Stan Cornyn, son of City Attorney and Mrs. T. Guy Cornyn, will portray Dr.

Romer in the comedy, "One Foot in Heaven." Fredrick March played the role on Broadway and in motion picture production.

Large salmon catches were reported by Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Welch, 50 Montecito Court, following their return last Tuesday from a trip at Smith River, California.

MEMBERS OF THE Sierra Guild to the Children's Hospital are completing work on their decorated baskets and shopping bags for the group's booth at the annual Doll Fair Saturday, Nov. 5, at Marlborough School in Los Angeles, to benefit the Children's Hospital. Among

Mrs. Norbert Murphy to Address St. Rita's Guild Members Nov. 8

Mrs. Norbert Murphy, chairman of libraries and literature of the Los Angeles Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women, will entertain members of St. Rita's Guild at their luncheon meeting Tuesday, Nov. 8, at 11:45 o'clock in the parish hall.

Mrs. Murphy will give a new type of book review in which she makes the characters come to life while adhering faithfully to the language of the author. Under her unique presentation books seem more interesting than ever before.

Her background includes graduation from Beaver College, Beaver, Pa., as a speech major, Kings School of Oratory, Pittsburgh, Pa., five seasons with the Keystone Stock Players and two seasons as recreational director at Yellowstone National Park.

She has been president of the Friends of the Library, Seattle, Wash., and the Cabrini Literary Guild, Glendale, Calif. Guild members will recall the highly interesting review Mrs. Murphy presented to their group two years ago.

Following a business meeting conducted by the president, Mrs. Mrs. Robert J. Taillac, there will be a discussion of plans to further the big "Football Frolic" which is scheduled by the Guild and the Holy Name Society Saturday, Nov. 19, at the Santa Anita Turf Club.

A football motif will be used in the decorations for the event which will open with a get-acquainted cocktail hour from 8 to 9 p.m. Guests will enjoy dancing to the music of Joe Moshay's music from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m.

Reservations for the luncheon meeting may be made by calling Mrs. Joseph Delgatto at

Alpha Gamma Delta Plans Meeting Nov. 12

The Pasadena and San Gabriel Valley Clubs of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority are joining with all the Southland Alumnae Clubs for a "Holiday Boutique" for early bird shoppers Nov. 12 at the San Marino Woman's Club, 1800 Huntington Drive, from 1 to 4:30 p.m.

Looking ahead to the holiday season, there will be booths featuring decorations and gift selections for Christmas and New Year's as well as holiday table settings, refreshments, door prizes and a grand prize of a card table and four matching chairs.

Among the many items featured for sale are tree decorations, toilet articles in decorated containers, cosmetics, party favors, aprons, stuffed toys, ceramics, decorated baskets, variety exchange gifts, table and home decorations, sunburst mats, place mats, and Christmas wrappings.

Ticket sales proceeds will go to the cerebral palsy counselor training program of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Since 1947 an annual appropriation has been made by Alpha Gamma Delta Fraternity to the Cerebral Palsy Division of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc. This money is earmarked for the establishment of international fellowships for training vocational counselors and placement technicians in cerebral palsy techniques.

The returns from Pasadena's booth will be presented to Rosemary Cottage, to which they have contributed for years.

VICTOR BEAL JR. VISITS MR. AND MRS. W. S. HULL
Victor Beal Jr., of Okinawa, has spent the last week visiting his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Hull, en route to Michigan.

Woman's Club Meets Wednesday, Nov. 9

Sierra Madre Woman's Club will have its regular monthly luncheon meeting Wednesday, Nov. 9, in the clubhouse. Members are reminded the business meeting, presided over by the president, Mrs. Marion D. Austin, will start at 11 a.m. and luncheon will be served at 12 o'clock noon.

Following luncheon the program chairman, Mrs. Neil Fallon, will present John Pettley who will speak on "An Englishman Discovers America."

Reservations must be made by Monday, Nov. 7, with Mrs. Ruby Barham, CUster 5-0208.

Farewell Night For Star Members

Members of the Sierra Madre Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, will meet Nov. 6, at 8 p.m., in the Masonic Temple for the 1955 officers' "Farewell Night." Mrs. Florence Bowers, worthy matron, and William E. Bowers, worthy patron, will preside. New members will also be honored.

The evening's agenda will include reports of the Grand Chapter Session, Order of Eastern Star, held in Long Beach, the week of Oct. 17, which was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Bowers, Mrs. Laura Williams, Mrs. Margaret Sierts, Mrs. Jessie Hickok, Mrs. Helen Sandich, Mrs. Zoe Simpson, Mrs. Ethel Bensinger, Mrs. Tillie Froehlich, Mrs. Rose Adams, Jack Adams and Herbert Sierts.

The installation ceremonies for the new officers will be Nov. 21.

SIERRA MADRE NEWS—3

Barbara Tate Marks Eleventh Birthday

Barbara Tate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul T. Tate, 350 N. Lima, marked her 11th birthday anniversary at a dinner party shared by seven of her friends.

Highlight of the occasion was a carousel cake topped with a ceramic horse.

Earlier in the day Barbara was surprised with a party at her Girl Scout Troop 22 meeting. A cake decorated with Girl Scout emblems was served with punch.

POWER AUXILIARY PROGRESS REPORT

Pasadena Power Squadron Auxiliary members will meet today at 11 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Robert Summers, 3521 Grayburn Road, Pasadena. The Organization Committee will report on its progress and an official name for the group will be chosen.

The Auxiliary recently sponsored its first social event, a dinner dance at the Hotel Green in Pasadena, attended by members of the Los Angeles Squadron who were special guests.

The Pasadena Power Squadron is an organization of boating enthusiasts who sponsor free courses in various phases of boating and promote safety afloat. It received its charter in March, 1955, becoming the 172nd squadron in the national organization representing over 27,000 members.

Peter V. Rogers of Sierra Madre is commander of the Pasadena Power Squadron.

Junior Section Plans Meeting November 16

Mrs. Roger W. Maxson, president, has announced the American Home Section of the Shakespeare Junior will sponsor the November luncheon at the San Gabriel Country Club.

This affair is scheduled Nov. 16, at 12:30 p.m. and is under the direction of Mrs. Clay T. Snider, chairman of American Home.

Mrs. James Stevens, guest speaker, will discuss the "Pacific Influence on Contemporary Interiors" and will display many imported and domestic craft work.

Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Vincent W. Heublein at SYcamore 7-0713.

LELAND P. MARSH VISIT IN BANNING

Mr. and Mrs. Leland P. Marsh, 657 W. Grandview, enjoyed a recent visit with the Floyd Lindseys who own a hotel in Banning, Calif.

Carol Lynn Asher Has 8th Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Asher, 500 Gatewood, honored their daughter, Carol Lynn, on her eighth birthday at a Halloween party.

Those young guests enjoying themselves amid ghosts, witches and pumpkins were Wendy Lance, Kathy Brown, Josie Haney, Susan Meier, Catherine Seibert, Mary Sewall, Ginny Lou Shippey, Nancy Couchman, Lynn Barnhart, Maureen and Kathleen McKelvey and Margaret Lane.

JAMES M. RIZOR, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon J. Rizer, 670 W. Alegria, will be leaving soon to report for active duty as a second lieutenant in the U.S. Air Force at Lackland Base, Texas. Mr. Rizer graduated in June of '54 from Claremont College as a reserve officer and has been associated with the San Gabriel Bank of America. He is a graduate of St. Rita's School and Loyola High School.—(Joe Hinojos Photo.)

NADINE NOBLE MARKS BIRTHDAY

Nadine Noble, 233 Ramona, celebrated her birthday recently with her mother, Mrs. Hilda C. Noble, in Hollywood, and also in Long Beach visiting friends.

EXCHANGE CLUB SETS BOX SOCIAL SATURDAY NIGHT

The members of the Exchange Club of Sierra Madre, with their wives and guests, are holding a country box social dinner dance next Saturday.

The box dinners are being prepared by the ladies and will be auctioned to the men who will also draw a lady's name to determine with whom they will eat and have the first dance.

Dancing will be to the music of the "Dreamers," a local band under the direction of Mick McCormack. This fund-raising idea, it is hoped, will help the club to continue sponsoring youth activities in Sierra Madre.

Arts-Letters Group Will Meet Nov. 10

The Pasadena chapter of the National Society of Arts and Letters will present Ruth Cornell Fuller, well known book interpreter, on Thursday, Nov. 10, at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Clara Caulfield, 1298 S. El Molino, Pasadena.

Miss Fuller will interpret the new and popular book, "Good Morning, Miss Dove."

Music will be supplied by George and Desiree Mongar, on violin, flute and piano. Donations toward art scholarships for young students will be accepted and refreshments will be served.

Piano Recital Held At Morgridge Home

Younger piano pupils of Mrs. George Morgridge presented a musical program Friday night for a group of parents and friends at the Morgridge home. Assisting with refreshments were Mmes. Franklin Howell and Darrell Holman.

Students participating were Christine Waters, Joanne Voster, Barbara Winslow, Gloria Woodward, Mary Ann Feichtmann, Mary Holman, Mary Elizabeth Robertson, Melinda Howell, Janet Holmes, Richard Anderson, Pamela Valois, Susan Fish and Rhoda Sproul.

Semanons . . .

New Interest Seen in Club; Needs Director

By Judy Haymaker

OUR REPUTATION is really growing fast! People are beginning to take a new interest in the great Semanon Club and its honorable members. (That's us!) Maybe someone, somewhere, that can fill the requirements will show up and accept the duty of director of the Semanons.

Our director, kids, will be a person with some great ideas and a sense of humor. That's why he's got to be special, and why it may be some time until he becomes a reality.

Why don't one of you help make a few posters for our dance? We would like someone, say Susan Maloney or maybe Carol Kline, to help us, but they aren't members. How about Kathy Franco or—oh, this is terrible! It's hard to reveal this, but we are running out of (or never had) enough members that will keep things going. In case someone wants to help with the posters, members or not, phone CU. 5-1887.

WE HAVE A new addition to the clubhouse; a piece of cardboard with "bulletins" written on it. Underneath this heading are two very important words—news clippings. There each week we will pin this column and any other news articles featuring the Semanon Club. Below this is the title "notices," where any important notices or announcements, such as the dance, may be found.

For those who so enjoy scribbling initials and pictures over things someone might want to read, we provide a corner labeled "doodling."

I SURE HOPE everyone will be in town Nov. 12. You can't have forgotten the date of the Coronation Ball, but—here's the time and the place and band and price again. The dance begins at 8 o'clock and ends at midnight. It will be held in the Congregational Church gym, and the band is the famous "Dreamers." Oh, yes, the price is 75 cents stag or $1 a couple. Pudgy MacDonnell is all set to rob you. He's charging 50 cents to print "Semanons" on the back of leather jackets or tankers. It's worth it, for only Pudgy can do justice to the name of "Semanon" in paint.

Eteri Club Members Slate Meeting in Pasadena Nov. 14

Eteri members will meet in the Pasadena home of Mrs. Ethel Stone, 485 Castano, Nov. 14, at 7:45 p.m. Mrs. Jean Bell will be co-hostess.

The president, Mrs. Betty Bush, has planned an evening which will include a talk by Mrs. Dewey (Edith) Mulholland, who will speak on the work being done in the mission field in Brazil where she and her husband are stationed. The Mulholland family is now on furlough in the United States.

Miss Natalie Romans, the club's teacher, is now attending an Eteri Conference in Arizona but will return in time for this meeting.

The club is busy collecting children's and adult's clothing to be sent to Faith Children's Home in Kentucky. Anyone wishing to donate clothing may call Mrs. Shirley Packard at Custer 5-6153.

Manford Bauer Has 10th Birthday

Manford Lynn Bauer was honored by his parents, the Manford Bauers, 415 E. Sierra Madre Blvd., on his 10th birthday anniversary with a costume party.

The patio was decked out with spooks, black cats and witches.

Refreshments were served to Larry Pierce, Barbara Paige, Debby Dumas, Candie Boone, Buddy Steele, Walter Lindsay, Susan Springer, Mike Toms, Bobby Wortham and Susan Smith. Linda Waggoner was unable to attend the party.

Dr. David J. Laurie spoke at the group's last work night which was followed by the preparation of supplies for the Moors who are leaving for the mission field in the near future. Mrs. Elsie Over and Mrs. Margaret Over served refreshments.

speed to spare

Speed is one of the very best features of cooking electrically. A modern electric range cooks with fast intense heat which springs into action instantly, reaches desired temperature in seconds and stays right there until food is cooked to perfection. With no "warm-up" needed and no heat lost, it's just a step from start to serving . . . and you get perfect results every time.

Electric cooking is for you:
it's so much better . . .
yet it costs so little!

New Books at the Library

BEYOND THE HUNDRETH MERIDIAN, by Wallace Stegner.

The biography of Maj. John Wesley Powell, who devoted his life to proving that the West with its less than 20 inches of annual rainfall presented an entirely different problem to the growing American nation, and who organized the systematic governmental scientific studies to prove it. A great trail blazer, Powell's pioneer exploration of the Green and Colorado Rivers for the purpose of geologic survey is dwarfed by his pioneering in the fields of ethnology, Indian policies, public lands, conservation and reclamation. A clear, vigorously written book, well supplemented with maps, pictures and notes.

QATABAN AND SHEBA, by Wendell Phillips.

An entertaining, well-illustrated book by the young California archaeologist who organized four expeditions into Southern Arabia to explore the sites of the ancient kingdoms which flourished along the Biblical spice routes. His account is alive with the excitement and triumphs of treasure-hunting, and the difficulties of dealing with the sometimes hospitable, sometimes fierce Arab tribesmen.

THE DINNER PARTY, by Gretchen Finletter.

Mrs. Finletter, the daughter of Walter Damsch, and wife of the ex-secretary of the Air Force, details in staccato style six months spent in the country while her husband completes a book. She breezes wittily through the neighborhood doings (dinner party, charity bazaar, club dance, etc.), aided by a host of charming, all too human characters, not the least interesting of which is her own family. The form is fiction, but the content real.

THE MAN IN THE GRAY FLANNEL SUIT, by Sloan Wilson.

You will like the man in the gray flannel suit. He is the average business employee in the upper middle class heading for home at 5 o'clock. He joins a large corporation, does a good job and is in line for bigger money. As an undercurrent to his daily life he remembers his war service and events during that time which urges him to pick up the loose ends of his experiences. The story mixes farce, satire and humor which makes it a book of unflinching charm. The characterizations are alive and you finish the book feeling you have met pleasant, normal people.

Heistand Seeks Tough Bill in Dope Traffic

Stiffer penalties for illegal dealers in narcotics have been incorporated in a new bill prepared by Congressman Edgar W. Heistand, it was announced yesterday.

The Heistand Bill, which the congressman hopes will get a hearing in the next session of Congress, calls for sentences of five to 10 years for convicted first offenders, 10 to 20 years for second offense peddlers and life imprisonment for third offenders.

Neither suspended sentences nor probation would be allowed for second and repeated offenders. His bill also calls for a minimum sentence of 20 years for peddling to minors, with a mandatory death sentence for those convicted twice of selling to teenagers.

Concerning addicts, Heistand said: "Addicts need treatment, not punishment, and the pending legislation so provides. We do need much public sentiment, however, to overcome the opposition. This ghastly traffic can and must be crushed."

Lecture With Piano Set for Friendship Club Next Monday

The Sierra Madre Community Friendship Club will meet Monday at 2 p.m. in the City Park House.

Miss Alice Joy of Pasadena will present a lecture and piano recital illustrating her work in hospitals. The title of the lecture is "Healing Through Music."

For the past 10 years Miss Joy has pioneered in music therapy in various hospitals in California and the East. She has studied and done research work in New York and Boston.

Miss Joy is an accomplished pianist, and will illustrate her talks with piano numbers exemplifying the type of music in her hospital work.

During the war she gave programs to the veterans' hospitals in the San Francisco Bay area. She visits Sister Kenney's Hospital, giving musical programs to the patients.

Accompanying Miss Joy will be Mrs. Leota McKnight, poet and writer of radio scripts. Mrs. McKnight will give some of her original poetry.

Also with Miss Joy will be Miss Catherine Risher of Pasadena. After the program tea will be served.

Rummage Sale and Food Fair Planned By Woman's Club

Plans are under way by members of the Sierra Madre Woman's Club for their "Food Fair and Rummage Sale" Friday, Nov. 11, in the clubhouse.

Mrs. Dewey G. McGeary, general chairman, has announced there will be booths with casserole dishes and baked goods, white elephants, candles made by Mrs. James Woolley, aprons, "Fortune Telling," plants and candy as well as a rummage sale.

One of the day's highlights will be a "snack bar" where coffee, doughnuts, cake, cookies and sandwiches will be served from 9 a.m. until through the afternoon.

Mrs. McGeary will be assisted by Mrs. Edward W. Beutler, aprons and plants; Mrs. Helen M. Bonn, baked goods; Mrs. Arthur D. Rains, casseroles; Mrs. Vern Eppard, snack bar; Mrs. Esther E. Croghan, fortunes; Mrs. Loree Snell, white elephants; Mrs. Leo H. Meyer, candy; Miss Clara Sykes and Mrs. Henry N. Wade, Jr., rummage sale.

New Exhibits At Huntington; Opened Nov. 1

The Huntington Library reopened Tuesday after its annual October closing.

Both Art Gallery and Library building will feature new exhibitions, in addition to the permanent exhibits which include such masterpieces as Gainsborough's "Blue Boy," Lawrence's "Pinkie," and Reynolds' "Sarah Siddons as the Tragic Muse," as well as the Library's vellum copy of the Gutenberg Bible and the Ellesmere Chaucer manuscript dating from about 1400.

In the Art Gallery two series of etchings by the famous 18th century Venetian artist Giovanni Battista Piranesi, will be shown. For the first time the Huntington is displaying its set of "The Prisons," 16 etchings which are considered Piranesi's finest artistic work.

In addition, selections from the Huntington's complete set of the great etcher's "Views of Rome," depicting architectural monuments of Rome, will occupy two rooms of the Gallery.

In the Library building, English and American cook books of the 16th, 17th and 18th centuries will be shown. Continued from the summer months are George Catlin's North American Indian paintings, the Walt Whitman "Leaves of Grass" centennial exhibit and Four Centuries of Fine Buildings.

Hours are from 1 to 4:30 every day except Mondays. Reservations are no longer necessary except for groups.

Often a man boasts of the righteousness of his convictions but still is unwilling to bet on them.

Toulouse-Lautrec Show Closes Nov. 7

The Toulouse-Lautrec exhibit in Pomona College's Rembrandt Hall will close Nov. 7.

The exhibit includes 15 large posters in color from the private collection of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shapiro of Oak Park, Ill., being shown for the first time in the Los Angeles area; 12 lithographs loaned by the Pasadena Museum of Art; a number of drawings, watercolors, lithographs and etchings, loaned by Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Marcy of Beverly Hills; notebooks of Toulouse-Lautrec loaned by the Elmer Belt Library of Los Angeles, and a lithograph provided by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Belt of Encino.

The exhibit is open to the public daily, including Sundays from 2 to 5 p.m. No admission in charged.

Records From Germany Tell History of Music From Beginning

By Frank Palmer

From the history of music division, Deutsche Grammophon Record Co., Germany, has come a new release, which is distributed through Decca in this country. These recordings are of note because they represent a concise history of music from its earliest beginnings to the 1800s.

There are 12 research periods included in this group, starting with the Gregorian Chants of 700 A.D. (recorded by the Benedictine Monks) to the Middle Ages, Renaissance, Italian 17th Century, Western Europe, German pre-classics, and ending with the Mannheim and Vienna period of 1760-1800.

To the present time recordings of this nature have been made available only in limited extent.

Here on these records we find the music has been recorded under peculiar circumstances in their completely authentic form based on the original versions performed in the original style using historical instruments whenever possible.

Imagine hearing the Mozart Piano Sonata No. 11 in A Major, K. 331, being faithfully performed on the restored piano that Mozart himself used. This piano has three devices for tonal variation, forte, piano (insertion of a piece of cloth between the hammers and strings) and the bassoon effect (produced by a roll of parchment being pressed against the bass strings up to "G").

The piano was built by J. G. Fichtl, Vienna, at the end of the 18th Century, and restored by Dr. Ruck of Nurnberg. You can readily sense the tremendous amount of research that

Florence Pascoe Pledges Sigma Kappa

Florence Rebecca Pascoe, daughter of Mrs. John G. Pascoe, 373 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., was recently pledged to the Lambda chapter of Sigma Kappa on the University of California at Berkeley campus.

Miss Pascoe, a junior, is majoring in psychology in preparation for personnel work in the industrial field.

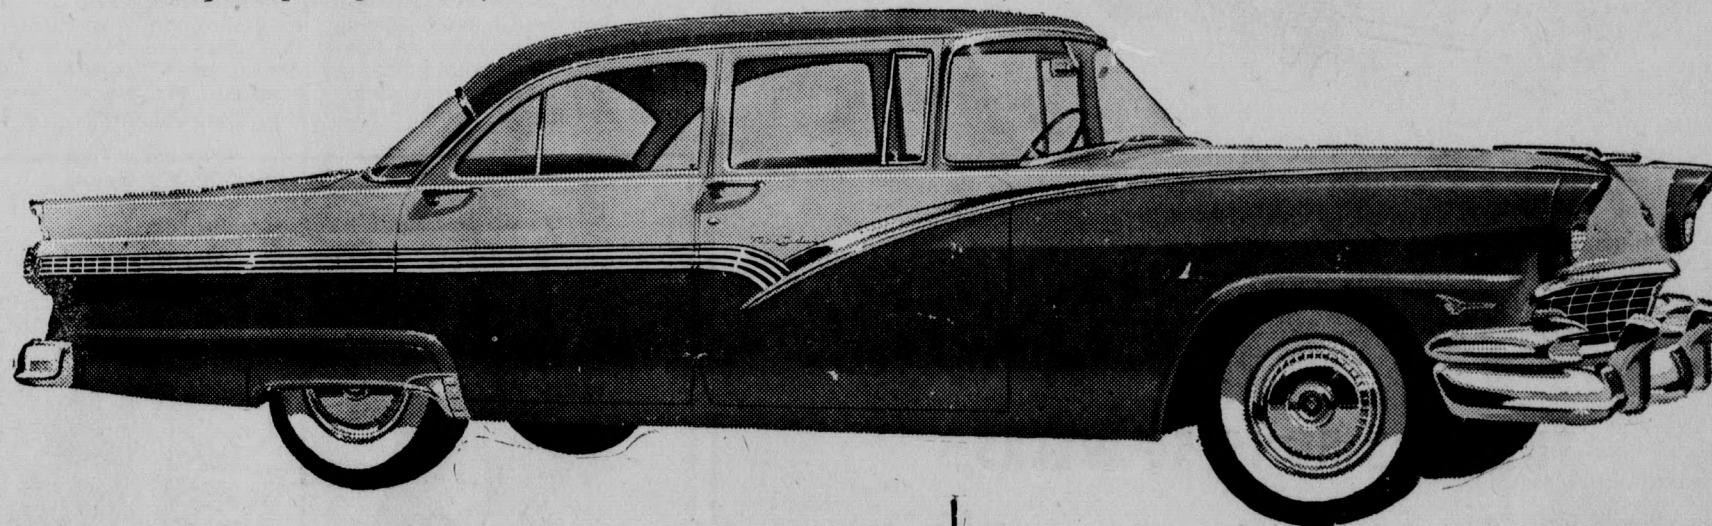

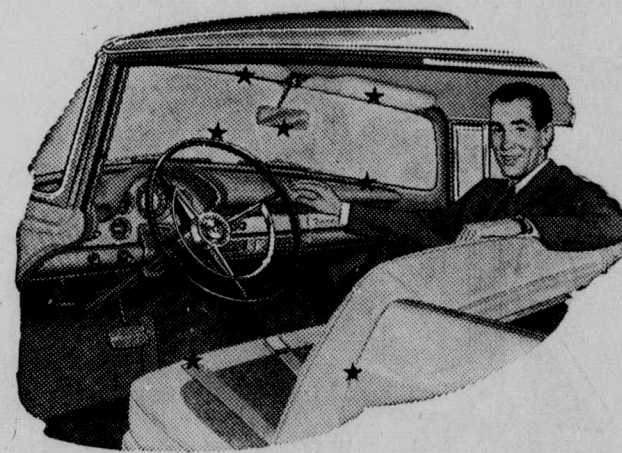

Along with her new pledge sisters, Miss Pascoe was recently honored at a dinner given by Sigma Kappa alumni and a pledge dance given by her sorority sisters at Berkeley.

'Fourposter' Opening Night Is Shaky

By E. N. Voorhees

The matrimonial double-bed, a handsome one, is the central stage property in the domestic comedy, "The Fourposter," by the Dutch playwright, Jan de Hartog, which opened Thursday night at the Pasadena Playhouse, to continue to Nov. 20, with Saturday matinees and all evenings except Mondays.

In, on, and around this comfortable symbol of married life from start to finish, revolve the typical discussions of a typical couple, Agnes and Michael, played by Carol Stone and Robert Rockwell.

As presented on opening night, both the action and the dialogue seemed to this reviewer somewhat too slow-paced for an American audience, the writing itself stereotyped, and delivered by the speakers as if being recited rather than lived.

This was particularly evident in some of the many lines of Robert Rockwell, the idol of millions of radio and TV fans as Mr. Boynton in "Our Miss Brooks."

Miss Stone was over-theatrical in several of her big moments. However, all this will probably have been noted and corrected by the capable director, Lenore Shanewise, and her colleagues before the second performance.

Alex M. Retsuks Host Reception For Peter Kubases

Mr. and Mrs. Alex M. Retsuk, 31 Suffolk, were recent hosts at a reception and buffet supper in the VFW Clubhouse honoring Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kubases, who were married Oct. 15 in the Wee Kirk of the Heather, Las Vegas.

More than 75 guests were in attendance at the affair. The newly married couple was presented with a cash gift by their many friends in Sierra Madre.

The plight of a groom with a nervous bride who wants to go home to mother on her wedding night is portrayed by Robert Rockwell and Carol Stone in "The Fourposter," domestic comedy drama at the Pasadena Playhouse. Rockwell is famous as "Mr. Boynton" on the "Our Miss Brooks" show on TV. Miss Stone, who has won Broadway's acclaim as both comedienne and tragedienne, is the youngest daughter of Fred Stone, musical comedy star.

Six-Lesson Dance Course Offered by City of Monrovia

A six-lesson ballroom dancing course is offered by the City of Monrovia, Parks and Recreation Department. The lessons will be 37½ cents per person per evening, or $4.50 per couple for the six-lesson course.

Classes will be held at the Monrovia Armory, located at Mountain and Olive, where a new sound-absorbing ceiling, recently installed, has improved acoustics to theater quality.

Hours will be 8 to 9:30 p.m. each Thursday beginning today.

The course, designed for beginners as well as those wishing to brush up, will consist of Tango, Waltz, Rhumba, Fox Trot, Mambo, Swing and Sam-ba.

Classes will be conducted by Robert Bruce, formerly of the dance team, Charlene and Bruce.

Registration may be made at Johnson's Music Store in Monrovia. Checks must be payable to City of Monrovia.

Charlotte Zelka, Famed Pianist, To Play Benefit Concert Nov. 21

Miss Charlotte Zelka, internationally-known pianist from Monrovia, will present a benefit concert for the Foothill Jewish Community Center of Sierra Madre Nov. 21.

Miss Zelka is interrupting a successful concert tour of Europe to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Zelkowitz of Monrovia.

Her concert for the Jewish Center will be in the auditorium of the Monrovia-Duarte High School, W. Colorado Blvd. Miss Zelka is considered one of the greatest interpreters of contemporary music. Her program will include selections from both modern and classical masters.

Miss Zelka began the study of piano at the age of 3½ years. Her first teacher was Miss Clara Ingham of Monrovia. Then followed a period of study with Maurice Zam of Hollywood. After this Miss Zelka attended the Juilliard School of Music in New York, followed by four years under the tutelage of Arthur Schnabel, which further prepared her for her career as a concert pianist.

At the age of 13, she made her musical debut at the Wilshire Ebell. Later she appeared in the KFI and San Gabriel Symphony Orchestras. She was introduced to New York music circles in 1949 when she appeared at the Town Hall. Shortly after this she started playing with Harold Byrnes Chamber Orchestra in Los Angeles.

Tickets are available at all secondary schools and music stores in Arcadia, Pasadena, Sierra Madre and Monrovia. Student tickets are 75 cents; adult tickets, $1.50.

Junior Rose Bowl Roundup . . . Right now I'm going to make a very thought-about prediction, for I am determined to get a prediction right besides the Notre Dame football games. Compton will play Cameron J. C. of Lawton, Oklahoma, in the Junior Rose Bowl Game this year. . . . Compton is a powerful football titan in the J. C. ranks. A couple weeks ago they mutilated Oregon Tech, 60-7, manslaughtered Pierce, 66-0, the following week and then this past weekend beat Ventura, 13-7.

Cameron, on the other hand, is making a strong bid to represent the East. Cameron appeared in the JRB in 1947, losing to Chaffey, 39-26, in a thriller, and has walked over five straight opponents this year, including a 19-7 verdict over previously unbeaten Northeastern A & M last week.

Quoting Homa Thomas, sports publicist for rival N.E.O.: "I believe Cameron has the strongest junior college football team in Oklahoma this year. They will bear your consideration for the 1955 eastern team."

Butch Burrows who is the star halfback for the Bullpups; Gary Fukasawa, a very hard-hitting halfback who is a junior and should do a lot of running next year . . . Lee Westhafer, also a junior, is playing at the tackle spot. . . Penny Thayer, another junior, is at the fullback post. . . and David Rondeau is the hard-hitting center for the Bullpups.

Dennis Lees has a job as coach and referee at the San Gabriel Recreation Center. This keeps him busy until basketball season rolls along. Dennis is striving for the first forward spot on the JV's. . . Laury Cavalier, bidding his time until baseball comes onto the scene, also is working as a coach and referee at the Recreation Center. . . Also just fooling around until bicycle riding hits the sports world is Buddy Webster. And he, too, believe it or not, is a coach and referee at the San Gabriel Recreation Center.

Funny thing, I noticed that these boys all seemed to look for a coaching job as soon as they heard the rumor that Pappy Waldorf might be fired as coach of the California Bears. Could it be? . . . Down, boys, down.

Arcadia AAUW Social Studies Meets Tonight

Combining the education, international relations and social studies sections in a special meeting tonight at 7:45, the Arcadia branch, American Association of University Women, will hear a group of young American ambassadors.

Four students of Arcadia High School who traveled abroad last summer will speak at the meeting which is to be held at the home of Mrs. Frank Hoffman, 914 Kingsley Drive, Arcadia.

Mrs. Don Stoner, French teacher in the high school, accompanied a group of eight local girls to France and Italy in a two-month tour, during which the girls lived with families abroad, speaking their language, learning their customs and making friends. Mrs.

New Coffee Drink Spurs Grape Output

California grape growers and dairy men are watching the latest trend in the state's after-dinner coffee drinking tastes. The case in point is Venetian coffee, which promises to have a widespread economic effect upon farmers.

Introduced recently to San Francisco night life, Venetian coffee, which is simply ordinary coffee with California brandy and a float of whipped cream added, has spread with amazing rapidity. What interests farmers, though, is the vast quantities of wine grapes and cream the new fad consumes.

A. Harold Noon, publisher of "Business Digest," gives some indication as to what so small a thing as the ingredients of after-dinner coffee means to the farming industry in dollars and cents. According to a survey, the first 20 restaurants in San Francisco to introduce the drink now average 2,000 servings a night or 730,000 per year.

Translated into farm and vineyard output, that amounts to some 5,000 gallons of cream and 1,110 barrels of brandy from 1,387 tons of California grapes. These grapes were the output of nearly 200 vineyard acres and brought the growers over $50,000.

These statistics pertain only to present consumption of 20 San Francisco restaurants. But the growing demand already has been felt in other California cities. Publisher Noon estimates that Venetian coffee's use of cream and brandy in California could reach 10 to 20 times this figure.

Recently Venetian coffee was introduced in Milwaukee, Minneapolis, Chicago, St. Louis, New York and other eastern cities.

Norris Twins Now Stevenson Twins

Diana and Donna Norris, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Norris, 297 Mariposa, are now known as the Stevenson Twins and are playing double basses in the Pasadena Symphony Orchestra.

The girls married cousins. Donna is Mrs. William Stevenson of Inglewood and Diana is Mrs. Douglas Stevenson of Santa Ana.

Both girls are well known for their work on TV and in USO tours.

J. L. Roy Rosenberg, Sacramento editor, says: "TVA has been called a river that flows through seven states and drains 41. It also overflows at the mouth."

Stoner was born in Beaune, France, was graduated from the Sorbonne, and met her husband after the German occupation, when she was an official interpreter for the American troops. After coming to this country as a war bride, she took her master's degree at Claremont.

Four of the girls who made the trip are still attending Arcadia High School and, with Mrs. Stoner, they will talk to the combined AAUW section meeting of their experiences. These young ambassadors are Pat Dolan, Eileen Hamilton, Barbara Snider and Johnelle Zook.

Reservations may be made by calling any of the three section chairmen, Mrs. Fred Anderson, DO. 7-8457; Mrs. Robert Marlowe, FO. 8-0184, or Mrs. Ira Price, DO. 7-0025.

INDIGESTION EXPLAINED

Indigestion is probably one of the most common of mankind's complaints.

Often called heartburn, acid stomach, acid indigestion, or by the plain old-fashioned name of dyspepsia, all are terms that refer to pain or discomfort in the abdomen, frequently occurring just below the sternum (breast-bone), that is sometimes accompanied by a sensation of bloated fullness and an acid taste in the mouth.

The symptoms may be caused by certain diseases or conditions, but most generally they are due to faulty eating habits. "Indigestion" means literally that the digestion is not working properly and, more often than not, it is the sufferer himself who is to blame.

Digestion is a complicated process that begins as soon as food enters the mouth, a fact many people forget, and does not end until whatever is eaten is either assimilated into the system or eliminated as waste matter. Should anything go awry enroute, it is liable to cause indigestion.

As the food becomes mixed with saliva digestion of starches begins, and if the process is incomplete the food is naturally not as acceptable to the stomach as when it arrives properly masticated. When insufficiently chewed, food enters the stomach in unbroken lumps that are less susceptible to the digestive action of the gastric juices and is, so to speak, off to a bad start right away. Which is the reason that people with bad teeth, or none at all, are so frequently troubled with poor digestion.

Food normally stays in the stomach one to four hours depending on what is consumed and how much. During this time it is subjected to the chemical action of the gastric juices, consisting of pepsin, hydrochloric acid, and other substances, and is then ready to enter the duodenum which is the first part of the small intestine.

Two more chemicals are added here—one from the gall bladder which helps digest fats and the other from the pancreas which works on the carbohydrates. As this point the food is more or less a fluid broken down chemically into such elements as can be used by the body cells.

During the long and slow passage through the small intestine, accomplished by successive contractions called peristalsis, all substances useful to the body are absorbed through the intestinal wall into the blood stream. The waste matter that is left is passed on to the large intestine from which it is eliminated in due time.

If anything interferes with more or less regular elimination—constipation for example—this also can hinder digestion. From beginning to end, proper functioning of the alimentary system is important.

Indigestion is not caused by an acid stomach as some people think. The contents of a normal stomach must be acid if normal digestion is to take place. Nor can it be blamed on any "acid condition of the blood" which is normally slightly alkaline and retains its alkalinity virtually unchanged regardless of diet, exercise, prolonged rest, and even disease.

Although the most frequent cause of indigestion is hasty eating, it may be due to other things as well. A scanty breakfast and lunch of the pick-up-and-run variety followed by a rich and hearty dinner places a definite strain on the digestive apparatus. Balanced meals, eaten leisurely, are preferable. Heavy smoking and drinking may also upset the normal processes of digestion.

Fatigue, haste, anxiety and excitement are among the conditions that inhibit the proper functioning of the stomach secretions. In these situations, food should be easily digestible in type and eaten sparingly.

The most common organic conditions that may cause indigestion are gall bladder disease, cancer of the stomach, and peptic ulcer. Because of the seriousness of these disorders, individuals bothered with recurrent attacks of indigestion should always consult a physician.

But there's no escaping the fact that indigestion is most often the result of faulty eating habits and it is also a fact, to a great extent, good health, both mental and physical, depends on good digestion. If the individual will take reasonable care of his digestive apparatus, more often than not it will give excellent service in return.

The world would make more progress if fewer people sat on the fence waiting for opportunity to come their way.

Long Summer Season Here Permits Colors Year Around

By Len Barrett

The newcomers to our area would like to know a little about our climate.

We are on what you might call a border line, using Sierra Madre Blvd. and vicinity as the line. North of it, we get little or no freezing weather. Below the line in certain areas we have some 32-degree temperatures, but they do not last long enough to do much damage to large leaf plants, etc.

Our summer season lasts well into October. Therefore planning, soil preparation and planting of our winter annuals and bulb gardens overlap with our summer flowering annuals. As a result, we have color all year around.

Planning comes first, using formal and informal gardens. Formal demands a good small border, building up to a high background using masses of one color as much as possible.

Informal needs a mixed border, using as many types and colorful plants as you can, mixing them up and still keeping the high plants in the back.

At the same time plan for bulb planting in the same bed in the foreground with a winter annual ground cover to cover them until they come up in the spring.

Preparation of the soil: The better the soil preparation the better the results. Use steer manure—one humus sack per 100 square feet of soil area—and dig it in about five to eight inches, deeper in bulb areas.

Our soil is practically all decomposed granite, which, when dry, is hard as a rock and difficult to get wet. When water does sink in it goes down to China without stopping. In other words, there is nothing in it to hold moisture and food, and to keep it from packing.

Also, decomposed granite has little or no food value. Therefore, steer manure and peat moss should be added to fill this important need.

The Hastings and Santa Anita Highlands used to be vineyards and alfalfa fields. So much of its food value has been drained out that there is little left. That is the reason so many Dichondra lawns look so bad unless they are constantly fed.

Planting bulbs: As a good border, Ranunculus provide a variety of colors. In back of them, King Alfred Daffodils, six to eight inches apart, point out their yellow trumpets.

Throughout the center of the bed, both Parrott and Darwin Tulips, scattered and planted where they fall, will give an array of color. On top of these our winter annuals will bloom while the bulbs grow.

Borders of Johnny Jump-Ups, Violas and Pansies make a colorful sight. Backed by stock and snapdragons, Iceland Poppies—all make one beautiful picture.

Next issue, lawn feeding and cutworm control for several different areas.

Remember, a little work, a little flower; a lot of work, a lot of flowers.

Delta Zeta Alumnae Marks Founder's Day

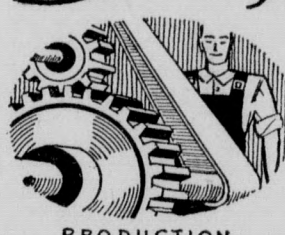

Members of the Pasadena-Foothill Alumnae Chapter of Delta Zeta recently gathered in the Monterey Park home of Mrs. King Karpen for a buffet supper and to celebrate the founding of their national sorority in 1903 at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio.

Mrs. James R. Concelman directed and appeared in a presentation of her original skit and songs.

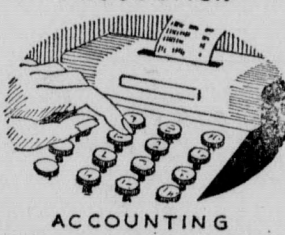

Highlight of the evening was the traditional lighting of six candles commemorating the six founders of Delta Zeta Sorority which now numbers thousands of members who are noted not only for their support of local college chapters, but for their many national and local philanthropies.

Among these philanthropies are the sorority's support of Gallaudet College, Washington, D. C., the world's only college for the deaf, the furnishing of hearing aids for underprivileged children with hearing handicaps, and locally, the Pasadena-Foothill Chapter gives assistance to the Pasadena Braille Club with volunteer workers and financial aid.

Sport Sedan Makes Bow with 1956 Chevrolets

Reminiscent of the sport coupe which Chevrolet introduced with such sensational success in 1950, a sport sedan makes its debut along with the company's other new models. Elimination of the center pillar in the window area adds smartness as well as un-

V-8 or 6 - 19 Models in 3 Series

The latest models carry increased horsepower, a fleetier, more rugged appearance and are offered in the broadest array of bodies ever produced by the company.

Jaunty Sport Coupe One of 19 New Chevrolets

Frontal appearance of the 1956 Chevrolets has been smartly altered in 19 new body models by redesigned sheet metal and brightwork. Performance has been improved along with beauty in the new cars. Above is the Bel Air sport coupe, groomed as one of the year's style leaders.

POWER INCREASE

Sweeping advances in durability, safety and power, paced by a new 205-horsepower V8 engine, headline the engineering achievements in the 1956 Chevrolets.

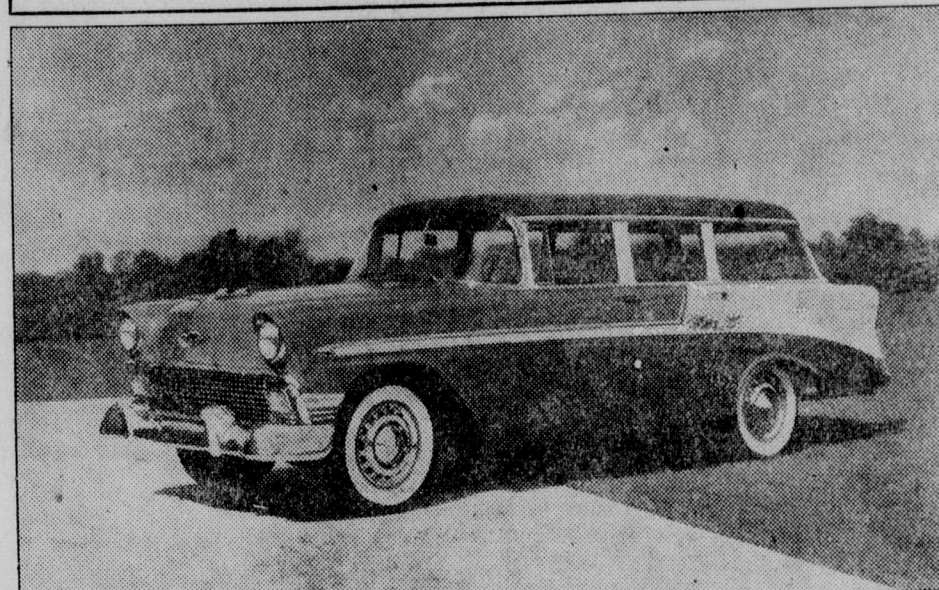

The horsepower boost, giving added zip for passing and pulling out of tight spots, runs the gamut of Chevrolet's line of passenger car engines, beginning with a 140-horsepower six featuring an 8-to-1 compression ratio.

The 1956 line offers a choice of three V8s, including a 162-horsepower engine for cars with standard transmission and a 170-horsepower engine designed for Powerglide.

The 205-horsepower Super Turbo-Fire V8, hiked from 180 horsepower last year, has a new Chevrolet compression ratio high of 9.25 to 1.

The entire line of engines, both V8s and sixes, have redesigned high-lift camshafts and hydraulic valve lifters. Full advantage of the optional "power package" introduced last year is extended to all 1956 station wagons through a redesigned fuel tank which permits use of a dual exhaust system on these models for the first time.

Nine-Passenger Joins Station Wagon Fleet

New to the automotive world for 1956 is a 9-passenger Chevrolet station wagon, available in the luxurious Bel Air or the more modestly equipped "Two-Ten" series. For maximum cargo space, the rear seat is removable, while the middle seat can be folded flush into the floor. In addition to the 9-passenger models, Chevrolet offers four other station wagons.

NEW PAINT HARMONY

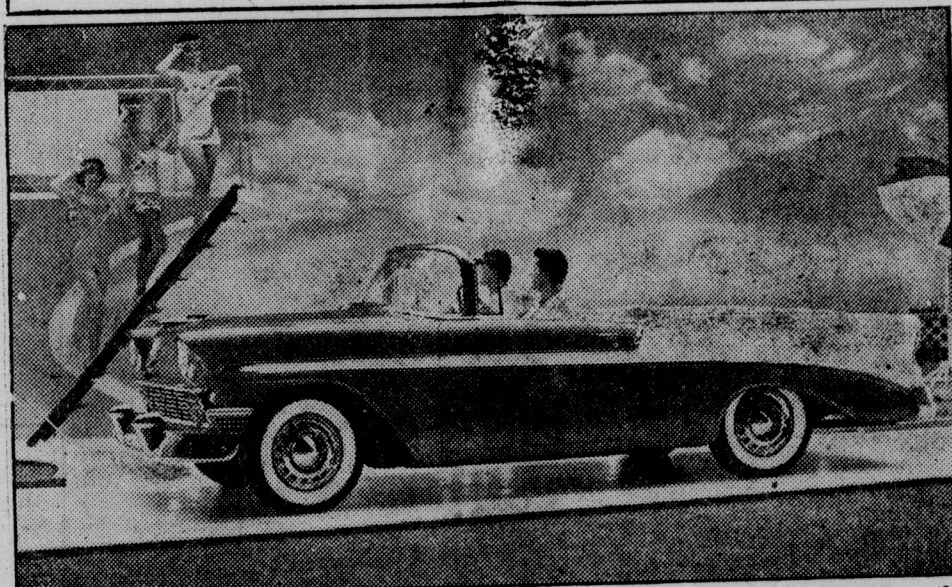

Lively paint schemes are offered in accord with the increased color consciousness of car buyers. Choices range from black to newly developed pigmentation in beige and red. Ten solids and 14 two-tone combinations are on the 1956 color chart.

Gasoline Filler Pipe Concealed HIGH STYLE WEDS PRACTICALITY

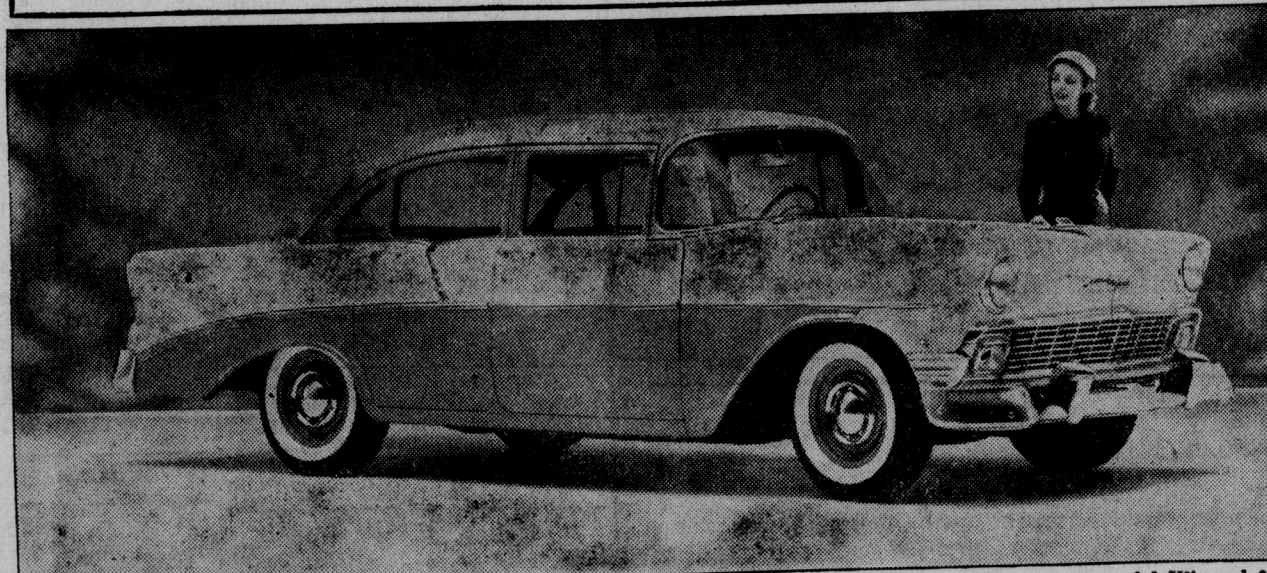

Beauty of design combines with functionalism to give the 1956 Chevrolets a touch of novelty. In the 19 body styles the company is introducing, the gasoline inlet pipe is concealed behind the left rear tail lamp. The lamp is hinged and swings downward out of the way when the tank is being filled.

Convertible Exemplifies New Motor Styling

No model in the line shows off to better advantage the styling that will feature Chevrolets in 1956 than this Bel Air convertible. Note how the spear-molding on the side of the fender and the completely new frontal design add to the low fleetness of appearance. The convertible is among 19 body styles that Chevrolet will offer in three series of improved cars.

New Styling Adds Length and Fleetness to Lines

The "Two-Ten" 4-door sedan is one of 19 freshly styled bodies in three series that will make up Chevrolet's passenger car line for 1956. All models have a longer, lower look. Front ends are more rugged-appearing through a redesign of grille and forward sheet metal. Engine choices include more powerful V8's and 6's. The car above affords an illustration of unique two-toning that separates top and lower body by a different color. The exterior and interior of each series has a distinct styling treatment.

OUTSTANDING SAFETY FEATURES

... in the 1956 Chevrolet line are the availability of seat belts and shoulder harness; improved, precision-aimed headlights and crash tested door locks to minimize the possibility of doors being sprung open by shock or collision.

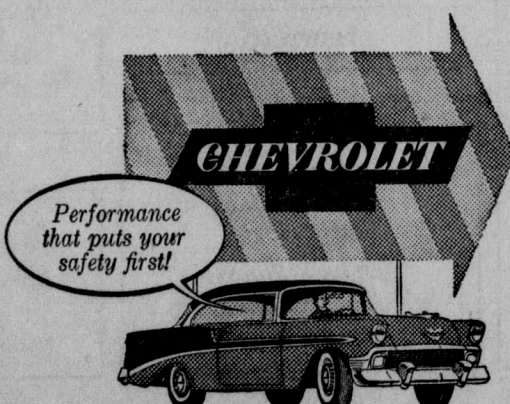

The safety lock was introduced on Chevrolet models last summer. The overlap, or interlock is designed to prevent disengagement of the two parts in event of a collision.

Sturdier Grille on Chevrolet

Design changes at the front of the Chevrolet have inspired a sturdier, fleetier appearance in 1956 models. Grille, bumpers and guards, headlamps and ornamentation are of a form that blends well with the over-all beauty of 19 new body styles.

Food, Gifts, Program Will Draw Many to Guild Bazaar

Trinity Presbyterian Church Guild has planned a tempting array of food and gifts for its annual bazaar Saturday, Nov. 12, as well as arranged a program to interest mothers and children.

Highlighting the afternoon for women of the area will be a talk by Aleen at 2:30 p.m. on holiday decor. Aleen is well known for her interesting table and other arrangements.

New Members Inducted at Guild Meeting

Members of the Hastings Ranch Guild of Cystic Fibrosis Foundation met in the home of Mrs. Elmer E. Swanson, 1320 Coronet, for their regular monthly meeting.

At the business meeting conducted by the president, Mrs. Glen H. Highman, plans were discussed for the group's participation in a spring theater benefit and the voting in of nine new members.

Mrs. John E. Caldecott, membership chairman, has announced the new members are Mrs. John E. Ranks, Mrs. C. Neal Rowley, Mrs. William R. Bevan, Mrs. Philip H. Benton, Mrs. S. Robert Bremer, Mrs. Dominic F. Giangregorio, Mrs. Le Roy Frandsen, Mrs. Florence Hendricks and Mrs. Orstra Anderson. Mrs. Brooks Thomas was invited to be an honorary member.

For those Ranch residents who would like to know more about cystic fibrosis disease and what the local guild is working for, the November issue of Ladies' Home Journal carries an informative article about the disease.

Hasty Hens Set Dinner-Dance At Huntington

Hasty Hens, social organization in the lower section of Hastings Ranch, will give themselves and their husbands a party Saturday night, beginning with cocktails at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jennings David on Rim Rd.

From there the party will adjourn to the Huntington-Sheraton Hotel for dinner and dancing. The group will begin its festivities at 7 p.m.

The committee in charge includes the officers—Mrs. Peter Madson, president; Mrs. Richard Holman, vice president; Mrs. E. H. Mackenzie, secretary, and Mrs. Richard Gault, treasurer.

Baby Shower for Mrs. W. M. Gallagher

Mrs. Matthew A. Oliver, Jr., 1175 Hastings Ranch, recently honored Mrs. Walter M. Gallagher, 1190 Hastings Ranch, at a baby shower.

Those attending the festive affair were Mrs. Kenneth W. Christianson, Mrs. Donald H. Willumson, Mrs. Robert W. Houseal, Mrs. William E. Bradford, Mrs. John F. McKenna, Jr., Mrs. John D. Roberts, Mrs. Desmond B. Strangman, Mrs. Max Goudge, Mrs. Oscar F. Kraft, Jr., Mrs. Orville Carey, Mrs. Thomas Posey, Mrs. Paul Maley, Mrs. William Green and Mrs. John Brady.

FINAL PLANS have been completed for the Open House-Carnival slated by the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary Catholic Church Sunday, Nov. 6, from 10 a.m. until 8 p.m. Fun for everyone in the family has been promised by Gerald Ferracane, general chairman, and his committee. Among those arriving to help with the construction and decoration of the booths were (left to right) Mrs. H. T. Kitchens, Mr. Ferracane, Mrs. E. F. Elfers, co-chairman of women's booths, and Robert Russell, general chairman of booths.—(Al West Photo.)

'Own-Your-Own' Apartment Homes Open in Hastings Ranch

Santa Anita Hastings, the new home development of the Lower Ranch, was formally opened last week with showings of the first nine own-your-own Patio Apartment homes. The center of attraction for the throngs of visitors, who have been viewing the project each afternoon, is the "Manteika," a model apartment home.

Creative Play New Project For Blue Birds

The Fairy Blue Birds in the Upper Ranch, under the leadership of Mrs. Charles E. Cowen, Jr., and Mrs. Robert J. Wilson, recently met in the David D. McBride home, 1195 Valley View, for an old-fashioned Halloween party.

The guests arrived in costume and enjoyed various games which included eating doughnuts dangling from strings. The refreshment table was decorated with Halloween favors and other seasonal motifs.

The girls' project for the year is the production of a creative play. They are busy now making dolls for the play characters and will make the stage sets later on.

Those members taking part in the activities are Pam Baxter, Robin Becker, Nancy Behr, Barbara Beringer, Barbara Cowen, Karen McBride, Libby Ringers, Carol Vane and Kathy Wilson.

91st Birthday for Mrs. Lulu P. Foster

On the occasion of her 91st birthday, Mrs. Lulu P. Foster of Hollywood was guest of honor at a dinner party in the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Vincent, 3775 Canfield Rd. Guests congratulating Mrs. Foster were Mr. and Mrs. George E. Bushnell, Mr. and Mrs. Brian P. Fitzgerald and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hall.

Field PTA Board To Meet Wednesday At Gulack Home

Eugene Field PTA Executive Board will meet at 10 a.m. Wednesday, Nov. 9, at the home of Mrs. William Gulack, 690 Rim Road. All Field room mothers are invited as special guests to hear reports on the school carnival held Saturday night.

A salad and dessert luncheon will be served at noon by the refreshments committee composed of Mrs. Dan Taylor, Mrs. Ralph Dunn and Mrs. Russell Vaniman.

Pre-school children of those attending the meeting will be cared for at the home of Mrs. John Horne, 2665 Newhaven.

Joan Donald Has Halloween Party For 4th Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. Edward O. Donald, 1205 Tropical, recently honored their daughter, Joan, on her fourth birthday anniversary at an afternoon party.

The Halloween motif was used in the table decorations and refreshments. The small guests, all decked out in costumes and masked, bobbed for apples and valiantly tried to eat apples dangling from strings.

Those in attendance were Debbie Johnson, Wendy and Jimmy Shiner, Debbie Ann Dumas, Billy Follmer, Billy Lawson, Timmy and Jackie Zea, Katie and Eddie O'Donnell, Char Maass, Robyn Fainer and Debbie Norton.

Pasadena Chorus Needs Singers

More singers are needed for the chorus of the Pasadena Symphony Assn. Director Dr. Richard Lert announced yesterday.

Singers are needed in all four voices for "The Messiah," he said, which will be presented with the Pasadena Symphony Orchestra Dec. 17 and Dec. 18. Rehearsals are every Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in Room 104-D at Pasadena City College. For further information, call

Les Trente Amies Has Recent Meeting

Les Trente Amies held their regular monthly meeting in the home of Mrs. Norman Buckle, 3865 Fairmeade.

Guests of the members were acquainted with the group and the work they conduct in connection with the Pasadena Tuberculosis Clinic.

Following a business meeting conducted by Mrs. Karl Rittger a representative from Carolyn of Whittier presented a program of flower arrangements. Mrs. William Ford and Mrs. Harvey Blanchard were co-hostesses.

Church Plans Open House, Carnival

The Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary Catholic Church is planning an Open House-Carnival Sunday, Nov. 6 from 10 a.m. until 8 p.m. The event has been scheduled to celebrate the completion of the new classrooms for the parochial school.

Gerald Ferracane, general chairman, has announced there will be many interesting booths including a "Country Store" and needlework display, free movies for the children and dancing for the teenagers, as well as a delicious chicken dinner which will be served from 1 until 7 p.m.

Those assisting Mr. Ferracane are Mrs. Harless Kitchens and Mrs. Elmer Elfers, ways and means chairmen; Robert Russell, booth coordinator; Joe Finn, dinner chairman, and Mrs. Marion Pearson, dinner co-chairman.

Among those working on the booths and dinner are Mrs. Ferracane, Mr. Kitchens, Mrs. Richard Tembers, Mrs. R. C. Bassell, Mrs. Luis Rios, Mrs. Norman Stube, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Friedrichs, Mrs. Ben Rogers, George Clark, John Wiles, William Wiegell, Clyde Hinkley, George Amthor and Louis Knoke.

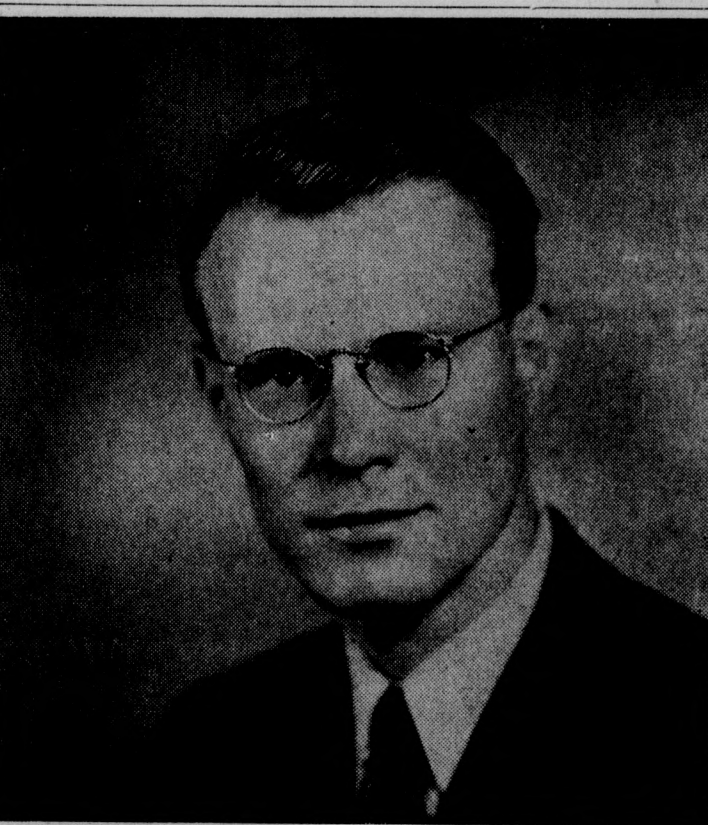

E. S. Gregorys Host Birthday Dinner

A double birthday celebration was observed Saturday night at the E. S. Gregory home on Greenhill Rd., with birthday cake served for Mr. Gregory and Mrs. Jane Sjogren, mother of the Gregory's next-door neighbor.

Present also were the Gregory's son, Jack, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Sjogren and Mr. and Mrs. Byron Hulme.

EDWARD R. HALPERINS NEW RANCH RESIDENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Halperin, former residents at 1556 Sierra Madre Villa, are newcomers to the Ranch and have been making their home at 1345 Tropical since Nov. 1.

Warren S. Silliman

Add to the fast-growing list of Ranch residents who achieve special recognition for jobs well done, the name of Warren S. Silliman, editor of Metro Coach News.

Mr. Silliman won first prize in the letter press and offset magazine division of an awards contest of the Pacific Coast Industrial Editors Assn. And he received his certificate of merit in style at a luncheon at the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco.

The prize-winning article was a sports story, "Meet the Champ," which appeared in the News. His competition included publications from throughout the west and Hawaii.

Mr. and Mrs. Silliman, who reside at 3770 Landfair, with Heidi, 11, and Bryant, 10, report a fine time at the San Francisco convention. In addition to the city's numerous attractions, Upper Hastings Ranch residents met last Thursday night in the C. Don Hays home, 1260 Coronet, to elect new officers for their property owners association and discuss plans for the outdoor Christmas decoration contest.

Those officers elected were Mr. Hays, president; Brooks G. La Boyteaux, first vice president; George A. Schluter, second vice president; Russell D. Kraus, secretary, and Donald H. Munro, treasurer.

Trinity Church Has Annual Meeting; Elects Officers

New officers of Trinity Presbyterian Church were elected in October at the semi-annual business meeting of the membership.

Nard elders were Mrs. Jeanne Woolley, class of 1956; Mrs. Mabel Schadt, 1957, and Horace Ray, Billings K. Rud-dock and Mrs. J. Shoemaker, 1958. Elected as deacons were George Robinson and Ian Robb, 1956; Paul Robertson, 1957; Craig Boorey, Dick Leonard, Don Hays and Bob Prescott, 1958.

New deaconesses are Mrs. Joe Cummins and Mrs. Mathew Oliver, Jr., 1956; Mrs. Joseph Schweppe, 1957; Mrs. H. Russell Delahooke, Mrs. Peter H. Hurlig, Mrs. Wilbur Jordan and Mrs. Horace Ray, 1958. Trustees are Harold Davidson and Edward Fleischer, 1956; Clifford Sweet, 1957; Don Beringer, Lyle Karielus, Roger Peterson and Wesley Williamson, 1958.

D. P. Beringer was elected church treasurer, and George Vane, assistant. Named to the 1956 nominating committee, which, with others to be named later, will present next year's slate of officers, are Joe Cummins, Mrs. Norman Kramer and Mrs. Emma Wright.

This year's nominating committee was composed of Herman J. Scholtz, chairman; Charles Root, Charles Kelly, Mrs. Walter Claus, Jack de-Clercq; H. Brooke LaBoyteaux, B. H. Ruddock and Horace Ray.

Ranchettes . .

A second daughter, Lori Ann, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ervin L. Douglyn, 1425 Daveric, Oct. 20 at St. Luke Hospital, weighing 7 pounds, 1½ ounces. The maternal grandmother is Mrs. Ruth Prentice of the same address. The paternal grandmother is Mrs. Catherine Douglyn of Detroit, Mich. The other Douglyn daughter is Debbie Ruth, 4.

With so many problems, such as traffic signs needed at various intersections, improvement in telephone service, better police protection and various other issues confronting the Upper Ranch, the need for an active property owners association is great.

The new officers will be asking the residents soon for their financial help and cooperation in making the association a successful and workable body.

The membership fee of $1 per family will be used in defraying the cost of printing and mailing as well as covering the expenses for the outdoor Christmas decoration contest sponsored by the association.

To make the association available to all residents who might have problems, the new officers decided to hold board meetings, which will be announced a week in advance in The News, at regular intervals. Anyone wishing to obtain the help of the association in relation to an issue, may appear before the board at one of these meetings and, if necessary, a meeting of all members may be arranged at this time.

Enthusiasm for the Christmas contest has been running high among the Upper Ranch residents. Last year's event was very successful. The decorations were beautiful and the prizes, thanks to the local merchants, were most rewarding.

This year's contest is to be based on the same principles. The various zones will once again compete with each other for over-all beauty and effectiveness with prizes being awarded to each residence in the winning zone. Shopping Bag was most generous last year in providing turkeys for these winners.

The homes will be judged with first, second and third prizes in three categories—fantasy, religious and the most beautiful. The contest committee is in hopes of having even more prizes to award to "honorable mentions."

To give everyone as much time as possible, it was decided to have the judging the night of Thursday, Dec. 22. All Upper Ranch residents are encouraged to take part in this very gay and colorful affair.

Participants are once again reminded that judging will be based on how much originality and ingenuity is shown in the display, rather than on the money spent. The purpose of the contest is to beautify our area and enjoy the good fellowship involved in a community project.

Last year's display brought much publicity and many visitors from surrounding areas to our "place on the hill" and this year should be even more beautiful and successful.

The association is once again going to erect large lighted Christmas trees at the Sierra Madre Blvd. entrances to the Upper Ranch. It is hoped the city will complete plans for the improvement of the center parkway on Sierra Madre Blvd. in the near future so the association may plant permanent Christmas trees.

The News will keep you advised as to the progress made in the contest, who the judges will be and what the prizes will be.

Constant Practice Is Secret of Ranch Golf Pro's Success

By Charles Ayres

LOUIS H. JENNINGS, 3715 E. Sierra Madre Blvd. in Upper Hastings Ranch, won his first golf tournament since turning professional in July, by capturing the Santa Anita Open held Oct. 13-16 on the Arcadia course.

Jennings shot a two under par total of 208 for the 54-hole tournament to beat out his closest competitor, Jerry Barber, member of the 1955 U.S. Ryder Cup team, by two strokes.

Employed since 1946 as a golf salesman for A. G. Spaulding Sporting Goods, "Lou," as he is called, plays golf only when his work will allow and plays only an average of twice a week on the neighboring courses. He is presently participating in the Southern California Open Golf Championship tournament at Palm Springs and expects to compete in the various Southern California tournaments coming up, including the Los Angeles Open to be held later this year.

A NATIVE of Portland, Oregon, Lou first developed an interest in golf in 1933 while caddying in his home town. Before moving to Southern California in May, 1950, he compiled an impressive list of victories as an amateur. After starting for three years on his high school team, he won the Portland City Championship three times starting in 1937, the Oregon State Amateur tournament three times, and the Oregon Open in 1946 with a 36-hole total of 135. Serving with the U.S. Navy from 1942-45, Lou managed to play once a week while stationed in San Francisco and collected the 1943 San Francisco City Championship for his efforts.

"Constant practice is the important thing," Lou says. "It isn't necessary to play so often if you keep the touch by hitting the ball."

He spends many hours at the well-lighted Eaton Canyon Driving Range. Lou's record would certainly prove his point.

CHIPPING IS his forte and is the part of his game he enjoys most. This dates to his caddy days when he would practice this shot while waiting for a job. Chipping is by no means his game's only strong point. Lou is long and straight off the tee and as his victory in the Santa Anita Open will attest, his putter responded quite well. The "Champ" is a 205-pound, 6-footer and has a 6-year-old son who bids fair to follow in his dad's footsteps. He's not being pushed, however, and decides for himself how much use he gives his junior set of golf clubs.

Lou's wife, Doris, seems to be content to let the men in the family do the golfing. As Lou says, there is some question as to whether the game she plays could be called golf, but then, having played no more than half a dozen times since they were married and having a professional champion in the family, who would want to even try?

LAST FRIDAY afternoon was a lucky day for Marshall Junior High School students. The football game went off wonderfully between Wilson and Marshall. Marshall's "A" team won with a score of 33-0.

The students who live in Hastings Ranch seen at the game were: Don Wilson, Judy Mortensen, Sally Keller, Pat Art, Sally Daisy, Barbara Bergholz and Paul and Joan Kaponya.

THE FIRST JUNIOR dance of the year, "The Tiger Roar," was held last Friday in the girls' gym from 7:30 to 10 p.m. This dance was for the seventh and eighth graders only and was sponsored by the PTA. The gym was decorated with a football theme to celebrate the games. The dance was attended by many seventh graders from the Ranch and some eighth graders.

Dru Shipman

DRU SHIPMAN had a Halloween party last Monday. The guests had supper there and after that, while the elementary children went trick-or-treating they went collecting clothing, sewing materials and soap for the American Friends Service Committee (for the Korean orphans). After the collecting they went back to Dru's house and finished the party with games and refreshments. Among those invited to the party were Pat Art, Sally Daisy, Karen Worsbergh, Suzie Sparr and Kella Pratt.

The highly unusual climatic conditions have in no way impeded the activities of the upper Sierra Madre Villa residents. Goblins have gobbled and paper drives driven and in general the area has been humming.

THE GEORGE B. HOLMES of 1550 Old House Rd. left Oct. 29 for a three-week vacation in Mexico City. There was much speculation as to whether they would be able to leave on schedule as their son, Doug, caught the mumps the week they were to leave. They are traveling with Dr. and Mrs. Marvin Pollard. While in Mexico City they plan to take in the sights of Oaxaca, Guadalajara, and some of the other neighboring cities.

MR. AND MRS. Norman L. White of 1515 Sierra Madre Villa returned recently from a two-and-one-half-month tour of Europe. They toured through Switzerland, Austria, Germany, France, Italy, Spain, Portugal, Belgium and England. They had a wonderful trip over on the Liberte and returned home by air.

Mrs. White says that if she ever returns she will visit fewer countries and spend more time enjoying them. They are enjoying the Mercedes car that they bought in Germany for their tour.

THE J. A. GUTTIERREZ family of 3265 Fair Point is enjoying the newest member of the family, Ana Luz, born Sept. 28. Little Ana has six brothers and sisters to keep her well amused.

MRS. FRANCES HOOF of 3885 Trevan Rd. is spending several weeks touring the middle West.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES F. Goldworthy of 3515 Fair Point entertained a number of friends at a Halloween party Oct. 29. The hilarity was enhanced by the guests' whole-hearted participation in the costume theme of "Characters — Living or Dead."

Among those attending were Messrs. and Mmes. Robert C. Jacobs, Lloyd C. Howard, John B. Price, James S. Smart, Edward H. Barker, John Fricke, Alkman Armstrong, Ernest P. Maurin, George J. Clark, Gordon M. Munson, Kenneth F. Dimwiddle, John M. Norcott, Edward Adams, and Drs. and Mmes. Robert P. Hinshaw, Robert L. Mueller and William H. Oatway.

MR. AND MRS. HAROLD B. Zook, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Fox, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bigger, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. John Davidson, all of Mesita Rd., spent a recent weekend in San Diego attending the Tri-State Kiwanis convention. They all stayed at the Town and Country Motel in Mission Valley. Mr. Zook is the drummer in the renowned Kiwanis Dixieland Band which played for the Pasadena Division dinner-dance.

MRS. JACK PASCHALL Jr., of 1324 N. Sierra Madre Villa, and Mrs. Edward Cranston of Altadena, recently won a first prize of $150 for the Pasadena Assistance League in the annual Table Setting Contest sponsored by Bullocks Pasadena. Their theme, "Supper After the Races," consisted of a centerpiece of oaks, barley, apples, carrots, sugar cubes and winning race tickets from Santa Anita and Hollywood Park. The table was in a color scheme of yellow, green and bronze. Bullocks furnished all of the table accompaniments for the 12 contesting service clubs with the exception of the centerpieces.

MR. AND MRS. EDWIN J. Engerran, of 1556 Sierra Madre Villa, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert

T. Caffery, of Los Angeles, gave a Halloween costume party Oct. 29. They entertained their guests with a series of games which included a horror house, originated by the two hosts, bobbing for apples, toasting marshmallows, and finishing off the evening with a late buffet. Those attending included Messrs. and Mmes. C. W. Westin, Fred Grable, William Kirtan and Len O'Hearn; also Mr. William H. Owen, Jr., Miss Marybelle Greer, Mr.

George Marzicola, Mr. Dave Evans and Miss Nancy Catterling.

Two Years of Service

Metropolitan Coach Lines took over more than forty public transit lines, covering the fastest-growing, most industrialized area of Southern California, on October 1, 1953. Now, as Metro's third year of operation gets under way, is an appropriate time to summarize briefly the progress made during those first two years.

NEW BUSES: Since October, 1953, the company has purchased 265 new, de luxe "air suspension" motor coaches, costing $6,149,550. This means faster travel and greater comfort for thousands of Metro riders.

BUSES REPLACE STREET CARS: Motor coach service has replaced rail service on the Hollywood Blvd. Line (Sept. 1954) and on the Los Angeles-Glendale-Burbank Line (June 1955). These changes have provided more frequent, more flexible and more convenient services.

NEW TERMINALS: As a part of its $15,000,000 improvement program, Metro has built two new divisional service-terminals in Van Nuys and El Monte, for a total amount of $665,000. A third, costing $365,000, is now under construction at West Hollywood.

EXTENDED SERVICE: In the San Fernando Valley, Metro has extended four lines to serve new areas, and in August, 1954, acquired the Asbury Rapid Transit System, which is now integrated with Metro routes throughout the Valley. Through service has been inaugurated between Los Angeles and Redlands, and the route serving Sierra Madre lengthened to include Santa Anita Highlands. Many other additions and changes in routing have been made throughout the system.

SMOG REDUCTION: Substantial progress toward the elimination of noxious fumes from the engine exhausts of motor coaches has been achieved by Metro through an extensive program of engine improvement, engine overhaul and preventive maintenance. Supervised tests, made early in 1954 and since, have proved that smog contribution from Metro's diesel buses is negligible, if any. Since March, 1954, Metro has been using a premium water-white diesel fuel, especially refined at our request. This fuel will be continued in use to keep Metro diesel exhausts free from smoke and smog contributors.

SPECIAL SERVICES: Metro has inaugurated a number of special operations, including Shoppers' Fare Refund Plans in Van Nuys and Huntington Park; Shuttle Service for Hollywood Bowl events; Direct Service to Disneyland and to the Santa Anita, Hollywood Park and Los Alamitos Race Tracks.

OTHER ACCOMPLISHMENTS: Many improvements have been made, including the time-saving use of freeways; reduced accident and injury rates; increase of informational material such as time-tables with route maps, and system-map folders; improvements in administration efficiency, operators' training, safety instruction and service coordination by 2-way radio-equipped supervisors' cars.

Much progress has been made during the first two years of operation by Metro and more will be made during the year ahead. Metro plans, and hopes it will be permitted, to provide the people of Southern California with a mass transportation system unsurpassed anywhere in the United States.

Congregational Church Will Conduct Canvass This Sunday

Fifty men will be consecrated as canvassers at the 11 o'clock service of worship at the Congregational Church Sunday. They will spearhead a stewardship campaign beginning that day, and climaxed in a Harvest Home Festival on Nov. 20.

The choir will sing Dean Bode's anthem, "How Sweet the Name." At the 9:30 service, Mrs. Isabell Hay-Chapman will sing "When Thou Passeth Through the Waters," by Brown.

In the afternoon, the members of Pilgrim Fellowship will attend an area Rally at Claremont, at which Rev. George Lindsay, minister of the Sierra Madre Church, will speak.

specializes in the training of children handicapped by deafness, at their regular meeting last Tuesday evening at the church. Mrs. James Garkie, member of the Parents Auxiliary of the Clinic, spoke, and the film, "Listening Eyes," was shown.

THE MONTHLY Family Night Dinner will be held at the Congregational Church Nov. 9. The program will include an address by Dr. Clayton Gill, minister of the Altadena Community Church, on "Union Now." Dr. Gill will speak of the proposed merger of the Congregational and Evangelical and Reformed Churches.

Dinner will begin at 6:30 in Pritchard Hall, and the program at 7:30 in the Sanctuary. Special care will be provided for children.

THE PHOEBES, service organization at the Congregational Church, presented the story of the John Tracy Clinic, which

Rev. Hesse to Talk On Stewardship of Church This Sunday

"The Stewardship of the Church" will be the 10:30 Sunday sermon subject of the Rev. A. Hesse, Pastor of Faith Lutheran Church, 835 Hastings Ranch Drive.

The theme accords with the parish program emphasis upon "My Stewardship" during November and also with the pastor's current series of sermons on "The Church." It will show that one's life, talents, material possessions and spiritual blessings are gifts entrusted to the Christian for wise administration.

In the 9:15 Church School session, the departments will continue the study of the theme "Living in God's Care," learning how to use God's gifts generously, joyfully, and thriftily and sharing.

In the afternoon at 3:00, the Voting Assembly will convene in the chapel for the annual election meeting. Walter Schroeder, Ph.D., will serve as the presiding officer.

The Youth League will gather for the monthly fellowship night at 7:30. The members of the Youth Council, Mr. and Mrs. Don Hargens, Mr. and Mrs. William Meiners, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Lalster, will be in charge of the evening program and recreation.

FINAL RITES FOR BERTA SPRECHER, FORMER RESIDENT

Mrs. Berta Olga Sprecher, a displaced person from Germany who came to California in 1951, died Oct. 28 in a Los Angeles hospital following a long illness.

Mrs. Sprecher formerly lived with her sister, Mrs. Martel Murray, 32 W. Carter, Sierra Madre. Her most recent address was at 420 Pentagon St., Altadena.

Recitation of the Rosary was held last Sunday in St. Rita's Church. A Requiem Mass was held Monday. Interment was in Resurrection Cemetery, South San Gabriel, with the Ripple Mortuary in charge of arrangements.

In addition to her sister, Mrs. Sprecher is survived by a son, Alfred, of Leipzig, Germany; a son-in-law, Walter Herrmann, of Altadena, and three grandchildren, Karin and Gisberth Herrmann, and Mrs. Eva Lamm, of Pasadena.

Mrs. Sprecher lost two sons in World War II.

'HONOR TEACHER' IS RABBI STECKEL'S SERMON TOPIC

Rabbi Charles W. Steckel, spiritual leader of the Foothill Jewish Community Center, 212 N. Lima St., will speak on "Honor Thy Teacher" at services Friday night in observance of National Education Week.

Cantor George David will chant the services and hymns. Hosts for the Omeg Shabbath following the services will be Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lapson of Arcadia.

Church Schedules Rummage Sale

Come see, come buy, come save is the byword for the rummage sale sponsored by the Women's Fellowship of the Sierra Madre Congregational Church.

The event is scheduled to take place from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Friday and Saturday, Nov. 4 and 5, in Pritchard Hall at the church on Sierra Madre Blvd. at Hermosa.

In addition to the usual clothing items, the Fellowship has also obtained a number of items of furniture for sale, including an electric stove, a davenport, chairs, tables, end tables, etc. Mrs. Dewey G. McGary is chairman.

To avoid disappointment set your heart upon something that other people do not want.

Methodists Set November as Loyalty Month

November will be observed as Loyalty Month in the Sierra Madre Methodist Church. A registration will be taken each Sunday and an effort made to have every member present every Sunday," throughout the month. This observance will be climaxed with a second anniversary celebration on Nov. 27.

"The Meaning of the Church" is the sermon topic announced by Dr. Chilton C. McPheeters for the worship hour this coming Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The choir will sing "The Humble Heart" by Winstead.

Parents are reminded that the Cherub Choir, for ages two through seven, meets during this hour, with nursery care provided for younger children.

To meet the needs of a growing Sunday School, the men of the church are holding a "work session" Saturday, Nov. 5, from 8 to 12 noon. Two basement rooms are to be painted and new lights installed. An outdoor play area is also to be cleared and existing playground equipment repainted.

All materials for the project have been donated. Volunteers will be most welcome and are asked to bring paint brushes and tools where possible.

The Junior Choir rounded out its initial month of operation with a party last Sunday following the rehearsal. Twenty-two boys and girls from ages 8 to 13 were present to enjoy the fun. This group meets each Sunday afternoon from 3 to 4:30 o'clock. Children interested in singing are invited to join.

The W.S.C.S. will hold its regular monthly meeting at the church on Friday morning, Nov. 11, at 10 o'clock. Mrs. George Seymour will speak on "Women and the Church Throughout the Centuries."

The devotional period will be conducted by Mrs. Myron Smith. This group is sponsoring a "Chicken Pie Dinner" at the church on Monday evening, Nov. 14, at 6:30. Tickets are available: $1.35 for adults; 75 cents for children under 12.

L. A. PRESBYTERY MEETS TUESDAY

Presbyterian ministers and laymen representing 164 Southern churches will gather Tuesday at Point Loma Presbyterian Church, 2140 Chatsworth Blvd., San Diego, for the first winter session of the Presbytery of Los Angeles. Starting time for the meeting is 10 a.m.

Welcoming the anticipated 400 delegates, who will come from Los Angeles, Orange and San Diego Counties, will be the Rev. S. Dean McBride, pastor of the host church.

One of the first items of business will be the induction of the Rev. C. Virgil Zirbel as moderator of the presbytery, to serve for the coming term of six months. Rev. Zirbel is pastor of Calvary Presbyterian Church, Hawthorne, and as moderator he will serve as leader of approximately 100,000 Presbyterians in Southern California.

Where Do Your Dollars Go? Red Feather Work Reviewed

Now under way in Sierra Madre is the local Community Chest's second annual Fund Campaign with a goal this year of $8,000.

During the solicitation more than 200 volunteer workers representing the eight member institutions of the Sierra Madre Chest will call at every residence and business house in the city to request contributions and to answer questions concerning the vital youth and welfare work of the groups so financed.

The Chest institution members are: Boy Scouts of America, San Gabriel Valley Council; Campfire Girls, Civic Club Toy Loan, Community Nursery School, Family Service of Sierra Madre, Girl Scout Council, Santa Anita District YMCA, and the Visiting Nurse Assn., Inc.

To implement the cause of federated financing in this area the Sierra Madre News, in this and ensuing articles, will review the work of these agencies and of the public spirited men and women who carry on this work.

BOY SCOUTS

Marcus Woodward of Sierra Madre is chairman of Mt. Wilson district, made up mainly of Sierra Madre, and he defines the Boy Scouts of America as a movement which works through sponsoring institutions in providing a program of training and activities to supplement those of home, school and church.

The three-part program—cubbing, scouting and exploring—is reaching 70 per cent of the available boys of cubbing age (8 to 11 years) and 50 per cent of the boys of scouting age (11 to 14 years) in the district, according to Woodward.

Community Chest funds allocated to the Sierra Madre scouting program pay for the services which the units cannot themselves provide. These services include camping facilities, training, record-keeping, badges and insignia, program aids and techniques, specially trained guidance and professional assistance.

Sierra Madre's three Cub packs, five Scout troops and four Explorer posts and one Sea Scout ship, are sponsored by the Sierra Madre Parent-Teacher Assn., St. Rita's Church, Church of the Ascension, Bethany Church, Congregational Church, and the Kiwanis and Lions Clubs. Approximately 300 boys are active participants in the program.

Believing strongly that federated financing provides needed services in our community, a total of 60 scouters (adults) are actively aiding the Chest solicitation in calling on local residents for Chest contributions.

Mt. Wilson district officers, in addition to Chairman Woodward, include Leon Jenkins, district commissioner; Bert Embree and Bill Newbery, assistant commissioners; and special chairmen, Don Warfel, advancement and awards; Frank Wright, camping and activities; Newell Barrett, finance; Richard Lees, health and safety; Ray Bowman, leadership training; Reg Barrett, organization and extension. Richard A. Hartley, also of Sierra Madre, is district Scout executive (professional).

Scouts from Troop 376 placed all the Community Chest posters in town. Scouts in Sierra Madre also are undertaking an important civic program, posting the colors on the main boulevard on all recognized flag holidays.

Chairman Woodward clarifies a misunderstood fact about the Boy Scout program in stating that "the Boy Scouts have NO boys. We cannot call on boys to participate in an event of any kind; we must ask the institution using the scouting program if they wish to include the event or project in question on their calendars."

'LOVE ACTS AS LAW' IS DR. BARNHART'S SERMON TOPIC

"Love Acts as a Law" will be the subject of the Sunday sermon, Nov. 6, at 11 a.m. by Dr. Ethel Barnhart, at the Santa Anita Church of Religious Science, 778 S. Rosemead Blvd., Pasadena.

900 Attend Party Held by Foresters

Some 900 persons, including a number of residents of this area, were guests at the annual Halloween Party of the Independent Order of Foresters, Court San Gabriel Valley 887, held Saturday night at the El Monte Civic Auditorium.

Prize for the most elaborate costumes went to Mr. and Mrs. Everett Oliver of Whittier, who went as George and Martha Washington. However, there was keen competition for first place among a variety of ghosts, devils, witches and the like. There was also a children's costume parade.

Master of ceremonies was Cy Smith of Radio Station KRON in San Bernardino, who kept activities moving at a rapid pace with games such as a potato dance, nose potato race, and the traditional apple-bobbing. Other features included dancing to the music of the Sunnysiders, and a nursery where smaller children were entertained.

On the decorating committee were Milton Nickerson, San Gabriel; Al Keyfel, El Monte; Clair Searles and Hugh Chidester, Temple City. The refreshment committee was headed by Albert Johnson, Alhambra, and Richard B. Flock, Pasadena.

Assisting with refreshments were Mesdames George Winters, Arcadia; Milton Nickerson,

Life is a quarry — out of which each individual must mold and chisel his or her character.

San Gabriel; Hugh Chidester and Clair Searles, Temple City; Clarence Burmeister, Sierra Madre; Rudy Rear, Robert Wells, Walter Wilkinson and Richard Flock, Pasadena; Daniel Hershey, Rosemead; Albert Johnson, Alhambra; Al Keyfel and Ralph Richter, El Monte.

Mariners Celebrate Eighth Birthday Of the Sea Nymph With Hallowe'en Party

The Mariner Girl Scouts celebrated the eighth birthday of the launching of the Mariner ship Sea Nymph with a Hallowe'en Birthday Party recently.

Guests included two of the first Mariners, two Sea Scout ships and Girl Scout Council officers.

Joycine Thompson Gallaheer, one of the first Mariners of Sierra Madre, and Jane Morse, the first skipper of the Mariners, came to wish them many more years of success.

Jane Morris, Council President; Ann Long, Camping Chairman; Mate Norma Lander, and Skipper Mama Pete were there representing the pilot committee.

The boys from Sea Scout ship Neptune of Pasadena, Dan Horn and Jerry Konoshe, joined with those from Sierra Madre ship Hornet in wishing the Sea Nymph many a happy voyage. The boys from Sierra Madre were:

Jim Wells, Ronald Leitner, Ron Finn, Roger Berkshire, Dan Armstrong, Jim Irwin, Frank Van Winkle, Bob Willis, Bill Gallaway, Roy Kline, Douglas Lang, Bill Cass, and Skipper Dick Walters.

The girls of the Sea Nymph include Nancy Reoss, Mary Ellen Blake, Diane Twedell, Kay Long, Lelia Robertson, Rita Bonney, Joanne Bush, Susan Maloney, Linda Green, Helen Jean Hippenstiel, Joan McCutchan, Susan Portland, Carol Fend, Janice Royall, Tod Draeger, Pat Nixon, Dorris Merrick, Madinda Howell, Karen Morris, Muriel Peterson, Louise and Sally Lander.

Al and Merel West and Charles Peterson took pictures and movies of the party.

ORDER OF EASTERN STAR HOSTS TEA TODAY

Members of the Order of Eastern Star, Sierra Madre Chapter, will hold a tea today in the Pasadena home of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Siert, 3800 Canfield Road, from 3 to 5 p.m. in honor of the worthy matron, Mrs. Florence Bowers, and worthy patron, William Bowers.

Harbinger of Christmas . . .

Desert Activities Reach Peak This Month; Coast Active, Too

November, last month of the Subtropical Southern California autumn season, brings harbingers of Christmas along the coastal plains and a rash of exciting activities on the desert, according to the All-Year Club's official events calendar out today.

Poinsettias begin to bloom along the coast and Toyen Berries on Catalina Island, heralding the Yuletide season with natural decorations.

Outdoor fun on the desert reaches its peak in November.

The Ryder Cup Golf matches—golf's equivalent to tennis' Davis Cup—is being held at the Thunderbird Country Club in Palm Springs Nov. 5 and 6. This is the first time in many years that this international golf tournament will be held in the West.

Death Valley hosts a gathering of its loyal boosters Nov. 10 to 13 during the annual Death Valley Encampment. Tales of lost mines, colorful anecdotes of early pioneer days, romantic old songs and mining camp dirges will fill the air around evening campfires. There will also be the usual flapjack-flipping contest, baby burro contest and desert art exhibit.

At Twenty-nine Palms, the annual desert weed show features displays of native plants from the desert, plus unusual arrangements of materials found at the city dump. This unusual event will be held Nov. 12 and 13.

Victorville's annual Rodeo and Stampede will be held Nov. 19 and 20, featuring a chuckwagon breakfast, pioneer days costume ball, western parade and a world championship rodeo.

Palm Springs' annual Sports Car races will be held Nov. 26 and 27 at the local airport.

San Diego salutes the brilliant poinsettia with its annual Poinsettia Pageant, which reaches its climax with a parade, poinsettia show in Balboa Park and Poinsettia Bowl football game Dec. 10. The pageant begins in November as the first poinsettias begin to bloom in gardens, along highways and at the world's largest poinsettia farm in nearby Carlsbad.

Many Christmas celebrations begin in November. Panorama City's Christmas displays open Nov. 25 and continue through Christmas Eve. The display includes 96 giant fir trees. Carols are sung nightly by choir of 30 voices.

Long Beach salutes Santa Claus with an All-Western Band Review Nov. 26. Some 75 bands parade in the 15th annual celebration marking the start of the Christmas season.

San Diego's annual Fiesta of Nations will be held Nov. 5 in the House of Pacific Relations, Balboa Park. Folk dances and other events characteristic of some 20 different nations will be staged, all in the native costumes of each country.

One of the finest livestock shows in the nation is the Great Western Livestock Show, scheduled for Nov. 26 to Dec. 1 at the Great Western Livestock Show Grounds just off the Santa Ana Freeway in Los Angeles. Daily entertainment and a first-class rodeo enliven the show.

The Southwest Museum will feature the work of John Hilton, noted for his paintings of Baja California.

Griffith Park will sponsor its annual Barnyard Zoo exhibit from Thanksgiving Day through Nov. 27, showing typical farm animals in natural habitat for city kiddies who seldom see farms and livestock.

More than 30 Lightning-class sailboats race Nov. 26 and 27 during the annual Thanksgiving Day regatta on San Diego Bay, sponsored by the Coronado Yacht Club.

At Descanso Gardens in La Canada, the first early-blooming camellias give promise of the floral fairland that blooms during the winter months. More than 48,000 camellia plants are in bloom at the peak of the season in the world's largest camellia garden.

VALLIE BAUERS RETURN TO WEST VIRGINIA

Mr. and Mrs. Vallie Bauer have returned to their home in West Virginia after spending two months with their son, Manfred Bauer, 415 E. Sierra Madre Blvd., and his family.

COMPANIONS OF SONG, unique French singers and comedians, will be featured Sunday afternoon at Monrovia-Duarte High School Auditorium in second concert of Foothill Community Concert Association's 1955-56 season. Nine young Frenchmen known as Les Compagnons de la Chanson first came to this country a few years ago with famed chanteuse Edith Piaf, now have scored on their own in nightclub, television, motion picture and concert appearances.
